16-2-101. Methods of administration.

(a) The usual mode of administering oaths practiced by the person who swears, laying his or her hand on and kissing the Gospels, shall be observed in all cases in which an oath is or may be required by law to be administered, except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

(b) Every person who shall desire it shall be permitted to swear with an uplifted hand in the following form: "You do solemnly swear, etc."

(c) Every person who shall declare that he or she has conscientious scruples against taking an oath or swearing in any form shall be permitted to make his or her solemn declaration or affirmation in the following form: "You do solemnly and truly declare and affirm".

(d) Whenever the court or magistrate by whom any person is about to be sworn, shall be satisfied that the person has any peculiar mode of swearing connected with or in addition to any of the forms mentioned in this section, which mode is more solemn and obligatory in the opinion of the person, the court or magistrate may adopt that mode of swearing.

(e) Every person believing in any religion other than the Christian religion shall be sworn according to the peculiar ceremonies of his or her religion, if there are any such ceremonies, instead of any of the other modes prescribed in this section.

CASE NOTES

Affidavit.

This section does not prescribe the only method of administering oaths. Signing an affidavit for the purpose of swearing to it may be sufficient to justify a finding that the party was sworn. Cox v. State, 164 Ark. 126, 261 S.W. 303 (1924).

Where affidavit supporting search warrant stated on its face that it was subscribed and sworn to before municipal judge and the judge testified that he questioned the witness about the contents of the affidavit, asked if the statements therein were true, and had witness sign in his presence, it was unimportant that the judge did not require the witness to raise his right hand and state orally that the statements in the affidavit were "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help me God," and the affidavit was properly sworn to under oath. Wilson v. State, 10 Ark. App. 176, 662 S.W.2d 204 (1983).

16-2-102. Officials who may administer.

Every court and judge, including former judges of courts of record who served at least four (4) years, justices and clerks thereof, and all justices of the peace, shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses and others concerning any thing or proceeding pending before them.

History. Rev. Stat., ch. 105, § 9; C. & M. Dig., § 4180; Pope's Dig., § 5190; Acts 1983, No. 850, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 40-106.

16-2-103. Perjury.

In all cases in which an oath is required or authorized by law, it may be taken in any of the forms prescribed in this chapter. Every person swearing, affirming, or declaring in any such form, or any form authorized by law, shall be deemed to have been lawfully sworn and to be guilty of perjury for corruptly and falsely swearing, affirming, or declaring, in the same manner as if he or she had sworn by laying his or her hand on the Gospels and kissing them.

History. Rev. Stat., ch. 105, § 10; C. & M. Dig., § 4181; Pope's Dig., § 5191; A.S.A. 1947, § 40-107.

16-2-104. Persons in armed services.

(a) Any person in any branch of the armed services of the United States of America may make oath to any affidavit before any commissioned officer of any branch of the services, and the certificate of the officer before whom the oath may be made shall be proof of the making of the oath.

(b) The officer shall show in his or her certificate his or her rank, the branch of service in which he or she is an officer, his or her outfit, and, if and when permissible, the place where the oath was made.

Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

ANALYSIS

Authorized Newspaper.
Compliance Presumed.
Contracts.

Discretion of Court.
Irregularities Cured.
Sufficiency of Notice.

Authorized Newspaper.

The test whether a publication may be classed as a newspaper authorized to publish legal notices is whether the publication regularly carries a record of events of general interest to the public as a whole. Williamson v. Nixon, 187 Ark. 762, 62 S.W.2d 24 (1933).

A daily publication specializing in news relating to the courts and business transactions, having a yearly subscription rate, and carrying news of events of general public nature is a "newspaper" authorized to print legal advertisements. Williamson v. Nixon, 187 Ark. 762, 62 S.W.2d 24 (1933).

Compliance Presumed.

Where the record recited that notice was given in the manner prescribed by law, the presumption, in the absence of proof to the contrary, is that there has been compliance with this section. Smith v. First Nat'l Bank, 119 Ark. 235, 177 S.W. 895 (1915).

Contracts.

This section does not prohibit parties from contracting in regard to the manner of advertising mortgaged property for sale in case of default in payment of the debt. Clark v. Wommack, 192 Ark. 895, 95 S.W.2d 891 (1936).

Discretion of Court.

The time and place and notice of sale under this section are within the discretion of the trial court. Brown v. Merchants & Planters Bank & Trust Co., 202 Ark. 684, 152 S.W.2d 548 (1941).

Irregularities Cured.

After confirmation of sale, any irregularities of notice will be cured. Carpenter v. Zarbuck, 74 Ark. 474, 86 S.W. 299 (1905); Simmons v. A.C. Carter & Co., 125 Ark. 547, 189 S.W. 176 (1916).

Sufficiency of Notice.

Where a county has two judicial districts, a tax sale will be held invalid when the land lies in one judicial district and is advertised for sale in a newspaper published in the other judicial district. Wolf & Bailey v. Phillips, 107 Ark. 374, 155 S.W. 924 (1913).

Where a deed of trust given upon land was less than $300, in a proceeding to foreclose, the requirements were met by the trustee where he gave notice by publication in a newspaper only. Wilkinson v. Hudspeth, 134 Ark. 132, 203 S.W. 263 (1918).

Foreclosure sale under deed of trust held void for the reason that no service was had upon the debtor as required by subsection (e) (now subdivision (d)(2)) of this section. Hunt v. Boyce, 176 Ark. 303, 3 S.W.2d 342 (1928).

Cited: Yell County v. Wills, 83 Ark. 229, 103 S.W. 618 (1907); Gleason v. Boone, 123 Ark. 523, 185 S.W. 1093 (1916).

16-3-102. Time advertisement to run.

(a) When any legal advertisement or notice is required by law to be published and no definite time is given for it to run, it shall be construed to mean for one (1) week.

(b) When a definite time is specified, it shall be construed to mean once a week during the time so specified, except that when a definite time is specified for publication of constitutional amendments proposed by the General Assembly, it shall be construed to mean publication in four (4) weekly issues of some newspaper in each county as is provided by law.

History. Acts 1891, No. 157, § 6, p. 269; 1893, No. 181, § 2, p. 329; C. & M. Dig., § 6809; Pope's Dig., § 8785; Acts

ANALYSIS

Applicability.

Initiative Measures.

Applicability.

This section is general in its nature and operates upon the publication of notices under subsequent acts which come within its terms. Pope v. City of Nashville, 131 Ark. 429, 199 S.W. 101 (1917).

Initiative Measures.

Publication of initiative measures affecting local or county government is governed by the general law as to legal notices, and a local petition published in conformity therewith is sufficient. Reeves v. Smith, 190 Ark. 213, 78 S.W.2d 72 (1935).

Cited: Harrison Elec. Co. v. Citizens' Ice & Storage Co., 149 Ark. 502, 232 S.W. 932 (1921).

16-3-103. Payment and rates.

(a)(1) When any notice or advertisement relating to any cause, matter, or thing in any court of record shall be required by law or the order of any court to be published, the notice or advertisement, when duly published, shall be paid for by the party at whose instance it was published. This payment, or so much thereof as is deemed reasonable, may be taxed as other costs otherwise allowed by the proper courts in the course of the proceedings to which the advertisement relates.

- (2) Where there is more than one (1) newspaper published in any county, the advertisement shall be made in the newspaper designated by the attorney for the party causing the advertisement to be made.
- (b) When any advertisement shall be made by a public officer thereunto authorized by law, the reasonable expense for advertising shall be allowed and paid out of the state or county treasury as other demands and charges of a like nature are allowed and paid.
- (c) When a publication of a legal notice of any kind is allowed or required by law, except real property and personal property delinquent tax rates, a newspaper publishing the notice shall charge and receive not more than its regular classified advertising rate for publication.

ANALYSIS

Liability for Fees.
Rates.

Liability for Fees.

Delivery by the circuit clerk of legal notices to the newspaper to be published as required by law did not make the clerk personally liable for the publisher's fees. Eddins v. Williams, 161 Ark. 226, 255 S.W. 868 (1923).

Rates.

In absence of stipulation to the contrary, publisher is entitled to charge the maximum rates. Reed v. Doniphan Lumber Co., 91 Ark. 303, 121 S.W. 275 (1909).

16-3-104. Proof of publication.

- (a) When any notice or advertisement shall be required by law or the order of any court to be published in any newspaper or made in conformity with any mortgage, deed of trust, power of attorney, or administrator's notice, the affidavit of the editor, proprietor, manager, or chief accountant, with a copy of the advertisement annexed, stating the number of times and the date of the papers in which the advertisement was published, shall be sufficient evidence of publication.
- (b) If the notice is given by five (5) written or printed notices, according to the provisions of § 16-3-101, then the affidavit of the party giving the notice, properly verified before some officer authorized to administer oaths and showing the time and manner of giving the notice, shall be sufficient evidence of publication.
- (c) No editor, proprietor, manager, or chief accountant shall be required to make the affidavit until his or her legal fee is paid.

An affidavit so worded that the affiant swore only to the date and insertion of the publication, and merely stated his connection with the newspaper and its circulation, was defective. Baker v. York, 65 Ark. 142, 45 S.W. 57 (1898).

Affidavit made by an accountant, but not by the chief accountant, was defective in that it did not comply with this section. Miller County v. Gazola, 65 Ark. 353, 46 S.W. 423 (1898).

Although an affidavit is sufficient evidence under this section, an affidavit is not the exclusive evidence. Whitford v. Whitford, 100 Ark. 63, 139 S.W. 653 (1911); Allen v. Allen, 126 Ark. 164, 189 S.W. 841 (1916); Straughan v. Bennett, 153 Ark. 254, 240 S.W. 30 (1922); Mahan v. Wilson, 169 Ark. 117, 273 S.W. 383 (1925).

Amendment of Proof.

An amendment correcting proof of publication of a warning order to obtain constructive service on nonresident defendants can be filed after judgment. Blackwell Oil & Gas Co. v. Maddux, 181 Ark. 726, 27 S.W.2d 514 (1930).

Certified Copies.

In suit to confirm tax title, it was proper for court to admit in evidence a certified copy of the publication of the delinquent lands. Stout v. Healey, 216 Ark. 821, 228 S.W.2d 45 (1950).

Compliance.

Proof of publication of notice of sale held to be in substantial compliance with this section, and, if not, would be cured by confirmation. Christopher v. Wasson, 198 Ark. 297, 128 S.W.2d 1012 (1939).

Cited: Covington v. Berry, 76 Ark. 460, 88 S.W. 1005 (1905); Hildreth v. Taylor, 117 Ark. 465, 175 S.W. 40 (1915); Clarke v. Federal Land Bank, 197 Ark. 1094, 126 S.W.2d 601 (1939).

16-3-105. Authorized publications — Legal newspapers.

(a) As used in this section, "legal newspaper" means a publication bearing a fixed title or name, published at a fixed place of business, regularly issued at fixed intervals as frequently as one (1) time each week and having a second-class mailing privilege, and being not less than four (4) pages of five (5) columns each.

(b) The primary function of such a publication shall be to inform, instruct, enlighten, and entertain, and to be an intangible service to which the general public as a whole resorts for intelligence of passing events of a political, religious, commercial, or social nature, for local and general current happenings, editorial comment, announcements, miscellaneous reading matter, advertisements, and other notices.

(c)(1) For a newspaper to be eligible to publish legal notices and to be classified as a legal newspaper, it shall have been published at regular intervals continuously during a period of at least twelve (12) months, following the securing of a second-class mailing privilege, or as a direct legal successor of such a publication issued during the immediate prior period of at least twelve (12) months, or, in the case of a legal newspaper which surrenders its second-class mailing privilege and is subsequently sold, the resulting newspaper under new ownership is a legal newspaper if the purchased newspaper had been a legal newspaper within twelve (12) months prior to its sale. The newspaper shall be circulated and distributed from an established place of business to subscribers and readers generally of all classes in the county or counties in which it is circulated for a definite price or consideration for each copy or at a fixed price per annum, which price or consideration shall be fixed by the publisher at what he or she considers the value of the publication based upon the news value and service value it contains and not upon the physical or concrete worth of the raw materials so sold.

(2) It is ascertained by the General Assembly that the value of a newspaper or other publication coming within the requisites of this section is in the service that it renders to the community or communities it serves.

(d)(1) The circulation of a legal newspaper shall be proven bona fide by at least fifty percent (50%) of the subscribers thereto having paid cash for their subscriptions to the newspaper, or its agents, or through recognized news dealers, over a period of six (6) months.

(2) A legal newspaper must publish an average of forty percent (40%) news matter which has sufficient merit to have created a following of paid readers.

(e)(1) The definition of "legal newspaper" provided in this section shall not be construed to classify as legal newspapers publications such as racing forms, shopping guides, and similar publications devoted primarily to advertising.

(2) Special class publications having a bona fide circulation such as patriotic organs, religious publications, construction journals, and other similar class publications shall not be affected under the provisions of this section.

16-3-106. Authorized publications — Newspapers of general circulation.

All statutes requiring publication of legal notices by insertions in newspapers published either in the applicable town or county, and also requiring general circulation of the newspapers in the town or county, may be complied with, if no such newspaper is actually published in the town or county, by publication in a newspaper having general circulation in the town or county, irrespective of whether the newspaper is published and printed in the town or county or outside the boundaries of the State of Arkansas.

History. Acts 1979, No. 18, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 15-116.

16-3-107. Authorized publications — Weekly newspapers of patriotic organizations.

(a) Any weekly newspaper published in the State of Arkansas by any statewide patriotic organization and having a circulation of five hundred (500) or more in the county in which the newspaper is published is declared to be a medium or forum in which there may be published all legal and judicial advertisements, notices, orders, reports, judgments, decrees, and sales in the county.

(b) All legal and judicial advertisements, notices, orders, reports, judgments, decrees, and sales published in such weekly newspapers are, and shall be deemed to have been, properly published within the meaning of the acts governing the publication of legal and judicial advertisements, notices, orders, reports, judgments, decrees, and sales.

History. Acts 1931, No. 32, §§ 1, 2; Pope's Dig., §§ 8787, 8788; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 15-113, 15-114.

16-3-108. Authorized publications — Trade journals.

Whenever it appears to any state, county, or municipal agency or department that a special class of readers should be reached in order to obtain a wider range of bids, the department or agency may, in addition to the legal notices and advertising provided by law, place the advertising or notices in any recognized trade publication or construction journal published in the State of Arkansas reaching the special class. The rates regularly charged by the trade publication or construction journal may be paid by the state, county, or municipal department or agency.

CHAPTER 4UNIFORM INTERSTATE AND INTERNATIONAL PROCEDURE ACT

SECTION.

- 16-4-101. Personal jurisdiction of Arkansas courts.
16-4-102. Service.
16-4-103. [Reserved.]
16-4-104. [Superseded.]
16-4-105. Other provisions of law unaffected.

SECTION.

- 16-4-106. Uniformity of interpretation.
16-4-107. Severability.
16-4-108. Short title.
16-4-109, 16-4-110. [Reserved.]

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1963, No. 101, § 3, which concerned determination of foreign law, was superseded by the enactment of the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure, the Rules of Appellate Procedure, and the Rules for Inferior Courts pursuant to the supersession rule adopted by the Supreme Court of Arkansas in its order of December 18, 1978. See Rule 44.1, ARCP. Some provisions of this chapter may have been similarly superseded.

Effective Dates. Acts 1993, No. 7, § 6: Feb. 1, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that when the General Assembly enacted Arkansas' long-arm statute, the Uniform Interstate and International Procedures Act (Arkansas Code Annotated §§ 16-4-101 et seq.), it was not intended to exclusively define the basis for jurisdiction over non-resident corporate defendants, but rather was intended to expand the jurisdiction of Arkansas Courts, it being long held by the Arkansas bench and bar that service upon an agent appointed by a foreign corporation to receive process in Arkansas confers personal jurisdiction in a transitory action regardless of the long-arm statute, which long-held concept appears to have been struck down by the Arkansas Supreme Court in Malone & Hyde, Inc. v. Chisley, 308 Ark. 308 (1992). Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Constitutionality.
In General.

Constitutionality.

This chapter is procedural and not substantive and its retroactive application to a cause of action that accrued before its enactment is not unconstitutional. Safeway Stores, Inc. v. Shwayder Bros., 238 Ark. 768, 384 S.W.2d 473 (1964).

This chapter does not unconstitutionally discriminate between resident and nonresident defendants as to venue. Bowsher v. Digby, 243 Ark. 799, 422 S.W.2d 671 (1968).

16-4-101. Personal jurisdiction of Arkansas courts.

A. DEFINITION OF "PERSON". As used in this section, "person" includes an individual or his or her executor, administrator, or other personal representative, or a corporation, partnership, association, or any other legal or commercial entity, whether or not a citizen or domiciliary of this state and whether or not organized under the laws of this state.

B. PERSONAL JURISDICTION. The courts of this state shall have personal jurisdiction of all persons, and all causes of action or claims for relief, to the maximum extent permitted by the due process of law clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution.

C. SERVICE. When the exercise of personal jurisdiction is authorized by this section, service may be made either within or outside this state.

D. INCONVENIENT FORUM. When the court finds that in the interest of substantial justice the action should be heard in another forum, the court may stay or dismiss the action in whole or in part on any conditions that may be just.

Constitutionality.

Former subdivision C.1(e) does not violate Ark. Const., Art. 2, §§ 2, 3, or 8. Bowsher v. Digby, 243 Ark. 799, 422 S.W.2d 671 (1968).

In General.

The long-arm statute displaced the common law principle of the transitory cause of action as a rationale for asserting jurisdiction over corporate defendants and required that the cause of action arise out of prescribed conduct such as the transaction of business in Arkansas. To the extent that Running v. Southwest Freight Lines, 227 Ark. 839, 303 S.W.2d 578, (1957), stands for the principle that service upon an agent appointed by a foreign corporation to receive process in this state confers personal jurisdiction in a transitory action regardless of the long-arm statute, it is overruled. Malone & Hyde, Inc. v. Chisley, 308 Ark. 308, 825 S.W.2d 558 (1992).

Construction.

This section should be liberally construed. Martin v. Kelley Elec. Co., 371 F. Supp. 1225 (E.D. Ark. 1974).

Although this section is to be liberally construed, there must still be some evidence upon which a prima facie showing of jurisdiction may be found to exist. Williams v. GMC, 573 F. Supp. 577 (E.D. Ark. 1983).

Burden of Proof.

A nonresident defendant filing a motion to dismiss or quash on grounds that there are not sufficient contacts within the state to be personally in the state, has the burden of going forward and offering proof to sustain the allegations of the motion, and if the motion is denied, this does not mean that the plaintiff is relieved from establishing jurisdiction; it merely means that at that point in the proceedings a prima facie case of jurisdiction sufficient to take the cause to trial has been made. Hawes Firearm Co. v. Roberts, 263 Ark. 510, 565 S.W.2d 620 (1978).

Under Arkansas law, the plaintiff has the burden of proving that a nonresident defendant has sufficient contacts with Arkansas to be sued in personam; however, the nonresident defendant filing a motion to dismiss or quash has the burden of going forward and offering proof to sustain the allegations of no jurisdiction. Jeanway Indus., Inc. v. Knudson Mfg. Co., 533 F. Supp. 678 (W.D. Ark. 1981).

Challenging a Finding of Jurisdiction.

A writ of prohibition will not lie in a case where the personal jurisdiction turns upon whether the activities of the defendant were sufficient to satisfy the "minimum contacts" test applied under this section in order to allow the court to exercise the maximum jurisdiction allowable by due process, since the "minimum contacts" test is a question of fact, and in cases where jurisdiction depends upon the establishment of facts, the issue of jurisdiction must be decided by the trial court, subject to correction on appeal rather than by a writ of prohibition. Wisconsin Brick & Block Corp. v. Cole, 274 Ark. 121, 622 S.W.2d 192 (1981).

When a trial court has made a determination that a person's contacts with Arkansas are sufficient to satisfy the minimum contacts requirement of International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310, 66 S. Ct. 154, 90 L. Ed. 95, 161 A.L.R. 1057 (1945), and former subdivision C.1.(a) of this section, the proper manner of challenging the decision is by appeal and not by a petition for a writ of prohibition. Fausett v. Host, 315 Ark. 527, 868 S.W.2d 472 (1994).

Contracts.

Contractual relationships held sufficient to establish jurisdiction over non-resident. Waukesha Bldg. Corp. v. Jameson, 246 F. Supp. 183 (W.D. Ark. 1965); Dreyfus Co. v. Royster Co., 487 F. Supp. 531 (E.D. Ark. 1980); Mountaire Feeds, Inc. v. Agro Impex, 677 F.2d 651 (8th Cir. 1982); SD Leasing, Inc. v. Al Spain & Assocs., 277 Ark. 178, 640 S.W.2d 451 (1982); McMahen v. Paramount Holdings, Inc., 604 F. Supp. 1099 (E.D. Ark. 1985); Rice v. SD Leasing, Inc., 14 Ark. App. 180, 686 S.W.2d 450 (1985); Ultimatics, Inc. v. Minimatic, Inc., 715 F. Supp. 1448 (W.D. Ark. 1989).

Negotiations within the state leading up to the execution of the contract constituted such minimal contacts as were sufficient to give a court in Arkansas jurisdiction over a suit on such contract. Thompson v. Ecological Science Corp., 421 F.2d 467 (8th Cir. 1970); Arkansas-Best Freight Sys. v. Youngblood, 359 F. Supp. 1115 (W.D. Ark. 1973).

Contractual relationship held insufficient to establish jurisdiction over non-resident. Arkansas Poultry Coop. v. Red Barn Sys., 468 F.2d 538 (8th Cir. 1972); Williams v. GMC, 573 F. Supp. 577 (E.D. Ark. 1983); Moran v. Bombardier Credit, Inc., 39 Ark. App. 122, 839 S.W.2d 538 (1992).

Evidence did not establish a contract to supply services or things in Arkansas which would bring nonresident under Arkansas jurisdiction. Roger N. Joyce & Assocs. v. Paoli Steel Corp., 491 F. Supp. 1095 (E.D. Ark. 1980).

Agreement that lease would be governed by and construed under the laws of Arkansas did not give an Arkansas court personal jurisdiction in and of itself, but did provide another contact with this state which went to satisfy the minimum contacts requirement. SD Leasing, Inc. v. Al Spain & Assocs., 277 Ark. 178, 640 S.W.2d 451 (1982).

A single contract can provide the basis for the exercise of jurisdiction over a non-resident defendant if there is a substantial connection between the contract and the forum state. SD Leasing, Inc. v. Al Spain & Assocs., 277 Ark. 178, 640 S.W.2d 451 (1982); Jagitsch v. Commander Aviation Corp., 9 Ark. App. 159, 655 S.W.2d 468 (1983).

In an Arkansas resident's breach of contract suit alleging an agreement that the Arkansas resident would pursue a wrongful death action in Arkansas on a Virginia resident's behalf in return for fifty percent of the Virginia resident's award, an Arkansas trial court had personal jurisdiction over the Virginia resident under subdivision B. of this section because the Virginia resident had purposefully availed herself of the process and protection of the Arkansas courts to procure a large sum of money, and should have reasonably anticipated being required to appear in an Arkansas court if a dispute arose regarding an agreement, performed in Arkansas, that was an integral part in her procurement of that money. Roberts v. Bendos, 102 Ark. App. 358, 285 S.W.3d 687 (2008), rehearing denied, — Ark. App. —, — S.W.3d —, 2008 Ark. App. LEXIS 626 (Aug. 20, 2008).

Where a Bermuda corporation and its principal negotiated a contract in Arkansas with an Arkansas corporation to ship Arkansas poultry to Bermuda, the Arkansas court's exercise of personal jurisdiction under subdivisions A. and B. of this section over the Bermuda corporation and its principal in an action on the contract did not violate Fourteenth Amendment due process. Twin Springs Group, Inc. v. Karibuni, Ltd., 2009 Ark. App. 649, — S.W.3d — (2009).

Due Process.

The purpose of this section is to permit courts to exercise maximum in personam jurisdiction allowable by due process. Martin v. Kelley Elec. Co., 371 F. Supp. 1225 (E.D. Ark. 1974); SD Leasing, Inc. v. Al Spain & Assocs., 277 Ark. 178, 640

S.W.2d 451 (1982); Kilcrease v. Butler, 293 Ark. 454, 739 S.W.2d 139 (1987); F & M Bank v. Hamilton Hotel Partners Ltd. Partnership, 702 F. Supp. 1417 (W.D. Ark. 1988); Akin v. First Nat'l Bank, 25 Ark. App. 341, 758 S.W.2d 14 (1988); Gould v. P.T. Krakatau Steel, 957 F.2d 573 (8th Cir. 1992), cert. denied, Gould v. P. T. Krakatau Steel, 506 U.S. 908, 113 S. Ct. 304, 121 L. Ed. 2d 227 (1992); Brown v. PST Vans, Inc., 794 F. Supp. 299 (W.D. Ark. 1992).

Mechanical or quantitative evaluations of a defendant's activities in a state do not resolve the question of the reasonableness of personal jurisdiction, for whether due process is satisfied depends upon the quality and nature of the defendant's activity in relation to the fair and orderly administration of the laws. Hutson v. Fehr Bros., 584 F.2d 833 (8th Cir. 1978), cert. denied, Fehr Bros., Inc. v. Weissenfels, 439 U.S. 983, 99 S. Ct. 573, 58 L. Ed. 2d 654 (1978); Gould v. Empire Steel Trading Co., 765 F. Supp. 980 (E.D. Ark. 1991), aff'd, 957 F.2d 573 (8th Cir. 1992).

The use of arteries of interstate mail, telephone, railway, and banking facilities is insufficient, standing alone, to satisfy due process in asserting long-arm jurisdiction over a nonresident corporation. Mountaire Feeds, Inc. v. Agro Impex, 677 F.2d 651 (8th Cir. 1982).

Whether a trial court has in personam jurisdiction over nonresident defendants must be decided on the facts of each case. To make this determination, the court must decide whether the defendants' actions satisfy the "transacting business" requirement within the meaning of this section and whether the exercise of in personam jurisdiction is consistent with due process under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Jagitsch v. Commander Aviation Corp., 9 Ark. App. 159, 655 S.W.2d 468 (1983); Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., 13 Ark. App. 229, 682 S.W.2d 763 (1985), cert. denied, Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., N.A., 474 U.S. 844, 106 S. Ct. 132, 88 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1985); Capps v. Roll Serv., Inc., 31 Ark. App. 48, 787 S.W.2d 694 (1990).

Factors to be considered in determining whether due process requirements have been satisfied when personal jurisdiction has been exercised over nonresident defendants are: (1) The nature and quality of the contacts with the forum state; (2) the quantity of contacts with the forum state; (3) the relation of the cause of action to the contacts; (4) the interest of the forum state in providing a forum for its residents; and (5) the convenience to the parties. Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., 13 Ark. App. 229, 682 S.W.2d 763 (1985), cert. denied, Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., N.A., 474 U.S. 844, 106 S. Ct. 132, 88 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1985); Akin v. First Nat'l Bank, 25 Ark. App. 341, 758 S.W.2d 14 (1988); Ultimatics, Inc. v. Minimatic, Inc., 715 F. Supp. 1448 (W.D. Ark. 1989); Capps v. Roll Serv., Inc., 31 Ark. App. 48, 787 S.W.2d 694 (1990).

This section extends this state's jurisdiction over nonresidents to the limits permitted by the due process clause of the United States Constitution. Dudley v. Dittmer, 795 F.2d 669 (8th Cir. 1986); Byer v. Gordos Ark., Inc., 712 F. Supp. 149 (W.D. Ark. 1989).

The inquiry as to the existence of in personam "long-arm" jurisdiction requires a two-part analysis. The court must first determine whether the facts presented satisfy the requirements of the state "long-arm" statute. After that is determined, and only if that is determined affirmatively, the court must then determine whether the state's exercise of personal jurisdiction is consistent with the due process requirement of the Fourteenth Amendment. Ultimatics, Inc. v. Minimatic, Inc., 715 F. Supp. 1448 (W.D. Ark. 1989).

The U.S. Supreme Court has held that in order for state courts to maintain personal jurisdiction over a nonresident person under the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, a party must satisfy two prongs: (1) the party must show that the nonresident has had sufficient minimum contacts with this state; and (2) the party must show that the court's exercise of jurisdiction would not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice. John Norrell Arms, Inc. v. Higgins, 332 Ark. 24, 962 S.W.2d 801 (1998).

Trial court erred in dismissing the Arkansas concrete company's action against the Kansas paint company because, even though the paint company had few ordinary business contacts with Arkansas, the paint company had filed a materialmen's lien against the concrete company's Arkansas real estate, which was sufficient contact to subject it to the jurisdiction of Arkansas courts; further, the lien filing also showed that the paint company had purposefully availed itself of the privilege of conducting activities in Arkansas. Concrete Wallsystems of Ark., Inc. v. Master Paint Indus. Coating Corp., 95 Ark. App. 21, 233 S.W.3d 157 (2006).

Nonresident sellers' presence in Arkansas for several days during which they consummated a large sales transaction that became the subject of litigation in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Arkansas was a sufficient contact to give the sellers a reasonable anticipation of being haled into court in Arkansas, and thus subjected them to personal jurisdiction under the Arkansas long-arm statute under this section. Bogle v. Jackson, — F. Supp. 2d —, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 86776 (W.D. Ark. Nov. 13, 2007).

Japanese traction machine manufacturer's Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(2) dismissal motion was denied because it had sufficient contacts with the Eastern District of Arkansas to warrant the court's exercising personal jurisdiction over it: (1) the Arkansas long-arm statute authorized the exercise of jurisdiction over foreign corporations to the fullest extent allowed by the U.S. Const., Amend. XIV Due Process Clause; (2) due process required that the manufacturer have minimum contacts with Arkansas, such that the maintenance of the suit did not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice; and (3) the manufacturer had sufficient contacts to render it subject to the court's jurisdiction in a products liability suit brought in the Eastern District of Arkansas because it did more than simply place its machine in the stream of commerce, it authorized a U.S. distributor to be the exclusive distributor of its products in the U.S., it provided a user manual in English with its machines, it placed no limitation on where the machines could be sold, it visited the distributor in the U.S. to discuss the sale of its products, and it was aware that its products were being sold throughout the U.S., including in Arkansas. Piggee v. Patterson Med. Prods., Inc., — F. Supp. 2d —, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 50785 (E.D. Ark. Apr. 29, 2008).

In a suit for fraud, unauthorized practice of law, breach of fiduciary duty, and civil conspiracy, personal jurisdiction over the out-of-state corporate officers of related insurance marketing entities was established under subdivision B. of this section because the officers held Arkansas insurance licenses and the corporations they led solicited business in Arkansas. Birts v. Vermillion, — F. Supp. 2d —, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 87205 (W.D. Ark. Sept. 23, 2009).

In a suit for fraud, unauthorized practice of law, breach of fiduciary duty, and civil conspiracy, personal jurisdiction over out-of-state residents who were not employed by, or lacked ownership interests in, related insurance marketing entities was not established under subdivision B. of this section because minimum contacts were lacking. Birts v. Vermillion, — F. Supp. 2d —, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 87205 (W.D. Ark. Sept. 23, 2009).

—Contacts Found.

Nonresident held to have had sufficient contacts with state to bring it within state's jurisdiction without denying due process. Davis v. Triumph Corp., 258 F. Supp. 418 (E.D. Ark. 1966); Lauck v. E.C.K. Chivers & Assocs., 320 F. Supp. 463 (E.D. Ark. 1970); Commercial Bank & Trust Co. v. Dixie Sound & Communications, Inc., 468 F. Supp. 578 (E.D. Ark. 1979); Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., 13 Ark. App. 229, 682 S.W.2d 763 (1985), cert. denied, Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., N.A., 474 U.S. 844, 106 S. Ct. 132, 88 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1985).

Although Honda R & D makes no direct revenue from Arkansas, the Honda Corporate family does, and Honda R & D enjoys the revenues received by the Honda family. Therefore, plaintiff submitted sufficient information to conclude that defendant Honda R & D derives substantial revenue from the State of Arkansas, and that exercising jurisdiction over Honda R & D satisfies due process. Hawes v. Honda Motor Co., 738 F. Supp. 1247 (E.D. Ark. 1990).

The fact that the corporation was neither present nor doing business in Arkansas and merely owned a subsidiary in Arkansas did not sufficiently connect the corporation to Arkansas to bring it within the state's personal jurisdiction under Arkansas's long-arm statute. Eppe v. Stewart Info. Servs. Corp., 327 F.3d 642 (8th Cir. 2003).

Court of appeals reversed the dismissal of a product liability suit for lack of jurisdiction over a French manufacturer where the manufacturer actively distributed and sold aircraft in the forum and operated a closely related business in the forum, which activities were sufficient to enforce long-arm jurisdiction over the manufacturer. Anderson v. Dassault Aviation, 361 F.3d 449 (8th Cir. 2004), rehearing denied, — F.3d —, 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 6948 (8th Cir. Apr. 9, 2004), cert. denied, 543 U.S. 1015, 125 S. Ct. 606, 160 L. Ed. 2d 484 (2004).

An insurance policy's territory-of-coverage clause, insuring a manufacturer against property damage from occurrences in the United States, established defendant insurer's sufficient contact to Arkansas to satisfy due process under subdivision B. of this section and the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment in plaintiff Arkansas farmer's indemnity suit against the insured. Ferrell v. W. Bend Mut. Ins. Co., 393 F.3d 786 (8th Cir. 2005).

Putative father's contacts with Arkansas were sufficient to meet due process requirements under § 9-17-201(8), this section, and U.S. Const., Amend. XIV, based on his agreement to submit to a paternity test in Arkansas and given the fact that he drove to Arkansas for the test that was administered in Arkansas. Moreover, the father could have reasonably anticipated being haled into court in Arkansas because a person submitting to a paternity test could foresee the possibility that a paternity suit and support action could have been brought there, and finally, the exercise of jurisdiction over the father did not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice when the burden of litigating the action was in no way unreasonable and the state had an interest in protecting its minor children and ensuring the payment of child support. Payne v. France, 373 Ark. 175, 282 S.W.3d 760 (2008).

—Contacts Not Found.

Contacts of nonresident with state held to be insufficient to support personal jurisdiction. Frank v. Steel, 253 Ark. 338, 485 S.W.2d 737 (1972); Carter Oil Co. v. Apex Towing Co., 532 F. Supp. 364 (E.D. Ark. 1981); Janni v. Janni, 271 Ark. 953, 611 S.W.2d 785 (1981); Eagle Material Handling of Ark., Inc. v. Acme Dock Specialists, Inc., 273 Ark. 362, 616 S.W.2d 716 (1981); Marchant v. Peebles, 274 Ark. 233, 623 S.W.2d 523 (1981); Cotton v. Cotton, 3 Ark. App. 158, 623 S.W.2d 540 (1981); Lomanco, Inc. v. Missouri Pac. R.R., 566 F. Supp. 846 (E.D. Ark. 1983); Jagitsch v. Commander Aviation Corp., 9 Ark. App. 159, 655 S.W.2d 468 (1983); Kilcrease v. Butler, 293 Ark. 454, 739 S.W.2d 139 (1987); Gould v. P.T. Krakatau Steel, 957 F.2d 573 (8th Cir. 1992), cert. denied, Gould v. P. T. Krakatau Steel, 506 U.S. 908, 113 S. Ct. 304, 121 L. Ed. 2d 227 (1992).

Where a resident of another state has no contacts with Arkansas and engages in no activities that would establish a "presence" in Arkansas to render him amenable to suit, he is not subject to the in personam jurisdiction of this state. Carter v. Wilson, 279 Ark. 58, 648 S.W.2d 472 (1983).

There were insufficient contacts between the nonresident guarantors and Arkansas to subject the guarantors to the jurisdiction of the Arkansas courts, for the mere fact that the individual defendants guaranteed an obligation to an Arkansas corporation did not subject the guarantors to jurisdiction in Arkansas. Nor did the guarantors' status as shareholders in the debtor corporation, or the more remote connection between some of the guarantors and California corporation, establish the minimum contacts between the guarantors and Arkansas necessary to satisfy due process. Arkansas Rice Growers Coop. Ass'n v. Alchemy Indus., Inc., 797 F.2d 565 (8th Cir. 1986).

Where company's single act was to guarantee a debt between an Arkansas company and a nonresident corporation, and the record was devoid of evidence of even mail or telephone transactions to bring the company within this state's jurisdiction, such contacts were insufficient to sustain personal jurisdiction. Moran v. Bombardier Credit, Inc., 39 Ark. App. 122, 839 S.W.2d 538 (1992).

In an action to collect on student loan notes, where defendant was a Tennessee resident, never resided or engaged in business in Arkansas, signed student guarantee notes in Tennessee, and his children, for whose benefit the notes were executed, went to school in Tennessee, and where defendant's only contacts with Arkansas were that the guaranteed loan was made by an Arkansas bank and the guarantor was an Arkansas corporation, the connection was too tenuous to support a finding of personal jurisdiction. Glenn v. Student Loan Guarantee Found., 53 Ark. App. 132, 920 S.W.2d 500 (1996).

A nonresident manufacturer is not subject to the jurisdiction of this state simply because its product is shipped there; there must be some showing that the manufacturer purposefully availed itself of the privilege of doing business in this state or in some manner directed its activities at the forum state. Smith v. Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc., 968 F. Supp. 1356 (W.D. Ark. 1997).

Personal jurisdiction not shown where the only contact that defendant had with Arkansas prior to the plaintiff's claim was the filing of an Oklahoma judgment against an Arkansas resident and the issuance of a writ of execution based on that judgment; such brief encounters with the state for the purpose of enforcing a judgment are not the type of continuous, systematic, and substantial contacts envisioned by the U.S. Supreme Court to satisfy due process considerations. John Norrell Arms, Inc. v. Higgins, 332 Ark. 24, 962 S.W.2d 801 (1998).

General personal jurisdiction not shown where corporation was not registered in Arkansas, had no employees here, had no agent for service in Arkansas, and had never initiated contact with people in Arkansas, and where the only contact that the corporation had had with this state had been sales to Arkansas residents, set in motion by Arkansas residents and merchandise delivered to Arkansas residents by mail or UPS. John Norrell Arms, Inc. v. Higgins, 332 Ark. 24, 962 S.W.2d 801 (1998).

A federal court in Arkansas did not have personal jurisdiction over a Kentucky bank whose only contact with Arkansas was to issue a cashier's check payable to an Arkansas bank and then, it was alleged, wrongfully dishonor the check. First Nat'l Bank of Lewisville v. First Nat'l Bank of Clinton, 258 F.3d 727 (8th Cir. 2001).

In a personal injury action brought by a man and his wife where the man was injured when an all-terrain vehicle (ATV) turned over on him there were insufficient contacts with Arkansas for the trial court to exercise personal jurisdiction; although there were a series of transaction involving the ATV, the injured party and his wife were residents of Louisiana, where they had purchased the ATV, and they brought the ATV to Arkansas for recreational purposes. Ganey v. Kawasaki Motors Corp., 366 Ark. 238, 234 S.W.3d 838 (2006).

Eastern District of Arkansas district court properly concluded that it could not exercise specific personal jurisdiction over a Japanese corporation because doing so would not comport with due process: (1) an Arkansas widow filed a wrongful death suit against the corporation after her husband was killed in Tennessee, while unloading electrodes that the corporation had manufactured in Japan; (2) the Arkansas long-arm statute conferred jurisdiction on the district court to the fullest extent permitted by the Due Process Clause; (3) due process required minimum contacts with the forum state and a finding that maintenance of the suit did not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice; (4) the corporation's only contacts with Arkansas were the annual visits made by its representatives to an Arkansas customer; (5) the widow's wrongful death claims did not arise from those contacts; (5) the corporation was not directly involved in the packing, shipping, or unloading of the electrodes, which activities were related to the worker's death; and (6) the inconvenience to the parties and the witnesses was also a factor weighing against the exercise of personal jurisdiction over the corporation because essentially all of the witnesses and documents concerning the packaging, shipping, and unloading of the electrodes were located in Japan and/or outside of Arkansas. Miller v. Nippon Carbon Co., 528 F.3d 1087 (8th Cir. 2008).

Court dismissed plaintiff's complaint for lack of personal jurisdiction because defendant's only contact with Arkansas was the filing of a Utah judgment against plaintiff in the state, and it went too far to suggest that defendant's registration of the Utah judgment against plaintiff was sufficient alone to satisfy the Arkansas long-arm statute and Fourteenth Amendment due process considerations. Barnett v. Centennial Bank, Inc., — F. Supp. 2d —, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11256 (E.D. Ark. Feb. 4, 2008).

—Question of Fact.

In order for a valid judgment to be rendered against a nonresident not served within the forum state, due process requires that certain minimum contacts exist between the nonresident and the state, such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice; the contacts with the forum state must be such that the nonresident defendant should reasonably anticipate being "haled" into an Arkansas court. A single contract can provide the basis for the exercise of jurisdiction over a nonresident defendant if there is a substantial connection between the contract and the forum state; whether the "minimum contacts" requirement has been satisfied is a question of fact. Akin v. First Nat'l Bank, 25 Ark. App. 341, 758 S.W.2d 14 (1988).

The existence of a state-created corporate form did not operate as a limitation on personal jurisdiction; it is necessary to utilize a case-by-case examination of the individual's contact with the forum. Ripplemeyer v. National Grape Coop. Ass'n, 807 F. Supp. 1439 (W.D. Ark. 1992).

The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals has established a five-factor test for determining the sufficiency of a defendant's contacts with the forum state so as to result in personal jurisdiction: (1) the nature and quality of contacts with the forum state; (2) the quantity of such contacts; (3) the relation of the cause of action to the contacts; (4) the interest of the forum state in providing a forum for its residents; and (5) convenience of the parties. John Norrell Arms, Inc. v. Higgins, 332 Ark. 24, 962 S.W.2d 801 (1998).

Effect of Amendments.

The 1994 version of this section provided certain listed bases for personal jurisdictions; after its 1995 amendment, this section, in subdivision B., embraced all actions constitutionally permitted. Smith v. Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc., 968 F. Supp. 1356 (W.D. Ark. 1997).

Enduring Relationship.

Subdivision B. of this section was not applicable where there was no showing that the defendant ever was domiciled in the state. Jenkins v. Jenkins, 257 Ark. 137, 514 S.W.2d 701 (1974).

Federal Law.

Federal court properly exercised jurisdiction over defendant, a bail bondsman, who submitted to state court an affidavit of intention to surrender accused requesting plaintiff's arrest, that lead to plaintiff's arrest and his suit for malicious prosecution and false imprisonment. Dean v. Olibas, 129 F.3d 1001 (8th Cir. 1997).

Where none of the jurisdictional factors prescribed by 10 U.S.C. § 1408 were satisfied, and the federal statute preempted the application of the "minimum contacts" provisions of this section, the chancellor lacked personal jurisdiction to divide party's military pension. Pender v. Pender, 57 Ark. App. 305, 945 S.W.2d 395 (1997).

Foreign Company.

An Arkansas court has authority, under this section and the due process clause, U.S. Const. Amend. 14, to exercise jurisdiction over a foreign insurance company in a suit by the insured to recover under the insurance policy's uninsured motorist clause for damages arising out of an accident in Arkansas with an uninsured Arkansas motorist. Szalay v. Handcock, 307 Ark. 232, 819 S.W.2d 232 (1991).

Business owner met his burden of prima facie showing that the district court could exercise general personal jurisdiction over an international company under the Arkansas long-arm statute, subdivision B. of this section, because the owner presented evidence showing that the international company had purposely availed itself of the privilege of conducting business activities within Arkansas, thereby invoking the benefits and protections of the state's laws: (1) the international company owned a security company that had promised to provide monitoring, alarm, and security services for the owner's Arkansas business; (2) statements on the international company's website and a prior lawsuit brought against the international company by the Securities and Exchange Commission provided proof that the international company manipulated and controlled the security company and that it received income from the security company's sale of security systems and services in the State of Arkansas; (3) the international company's contacts with Arkansas, through the security company, were the type of continuous and systematic contacts that established general jurisdiction even if the owner's claims did not specifically arise out of business activities directed at Arkansas; and (4) it would not violate the U.S. Const., Amend. XIV Due Process Clause to exercise jurisdiction over the international company because it could hardly be inconvenient for the international company to defend itself in a state where it was otherwise proud to conduct business. Duffer v. TYCO Int'l Ltd., — F. Supp. 2d —, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 74476 (W.D. Ark. Sept. 26, 2008).

Forum Convenience.

Although this section may affect venue because of its provisions relating to jurisdiction and service of process, the provision that the court in which the action is filed has broad powers under the principle of forum non conveniens demonstrates that the statute is basically a jurisdiction-giving statute rather than a venue-fixing one. Ozark Supply Co. v. Glass, 261 Ark. 750, 552 S.W.2d 1 (1977).

Considerations usually associated with forum convenience were pertinent to federal court's decision that Arkansas' exercise of jurisdiction over foreign corporation would offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice protected by the Fourteenth Amendment. Hutson v. Fehr Bros., 584 F.2d 833 (8th Cir. 1978), cert. denied, Fehr Bros., Inc. v. Weissenfels, 439 U.S. 983, 99 S. Ct. 573, 58 L. Ed. 2d 654 (1978).

Court may raise the doctrine of forum non conveniens on its own. Country Pride Foods Ltd. v. Medina & Medina, 279 Ark. 75, 648 S.W.2d 485 (1983).

The trial court's discretion in determining whether to dismiss an action due to an inconvenient forum must necessarily be based upon such factors as convenience to the parties in obtaining documents and witnesses, the expense involved in trying the case, questions of foreign law, trial docket, and other matters. Although the application of forum non conveniens lies within the sound discretion of the trial court and will be disturbed only upon a showing of abuse of discretion, the record must show the matters considered by the court in applying the doctrine. Country Pride Foods Ltd. v. Medina & Medina, 279 Ark. 75, 648 S.W.2d 485 (1983).

Where contract was executed in Arkansas and most of the parties were residents of the state, the convenience of the parties was best served by the hearing of the case in Arkansas. Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., 13 Ark. App. 229, 682 S.W.2d 763 (1985), cert. denied, Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., N.A., 474 U.S. 844, 106 S. Ct. 132, 88 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1985).

There is no requirement that plaintiff's claim be dismissed because of a prior pending action in federal court, nor is there any requirement that the court exercise the forum non conveniens discretion given it by subsection E. Helm v. Mid-America Indus., Inc., 301 Ark. 521, 785 S.W.2d 209, cert. denied, Helm v. Mid-America Industries, Inc., 498 U.S. 850, 111 S. Ct. 142, 112 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1990).

The application of forum non conveniens lies within the sound discretion of the trial court; only if this discretion is abused will be reviewing court reverse. Life of Am. Ins. Co. v. Baker-Lowe-Fox Ins. Mktg., Inc., 316 Ark. 630, 873 S.W.2d 537 (1994).

Because an insurer was the first party to file suit, and it chose to do so in the county in which it had its principal office, pursuant to § 16-55-213(a), a circuit judge erred by applying the doctrine of forum non conveniens under subdivision D. of this section, effectively overruling the insurer's choice of venue. Farm Bureau Mut. Ins. Co. of Ark. v. Gadbury-Swift, 2010 Ark. 6, — S.W.3d — (2010).

Internet Contacts.

Manufacturer's advertisement on the World Wide Web was insufficient contact with this state to subject it to personal jurisdiction. Smith v. Hobby Lobby Stores, Inc., 968 F. Supp. 1356 (W.D. Ark. 1997).

Principal and Agent.

Nonresident principal acting through agent in state held to be transacting business so as to subject principal to jurisdiction. Wichman v. Hughes, 248 Ark. 121, 450 S.W.2d 294 (1970); Nix v. Dunavant, 249 Ark. 641, 460 S.W.2d 762 (1970); F & M Bank v. Hamilton Hotel Partners Ltd. Partnership, 702 F. Supp. 1417 (W.D. Ark. 1988).

Former subdivision C.1. of this section would only enable the court to exercise jurisdiction over the principal on whose behalf the agent acted, based upon the conduct of the agent as it falls within this section. This section does not similarly authorize exercise of jurisdiction over an agent based upon the conduct of his principal, since the actions of an agent acting for a disclosed principal bind only the principal and not the agent, subjecting only the principal to jurisdiction on the basis of contact with the forum. Williams v. GMC, 573 F. Supp. 577 (E.D. Ark. 1983).

Real Property.

A court of the county where real estate was located had jurisdiction over the person of a nonresident owner under former subdivision C.1.(e) of this section in an action by a real estate broker against the nonresident owner to recover a commission for the sale of the real estate. Bowsher v. Digby, 243 Ark. 799, 422 S.W.2d 671 (1968).

A nonresident of Arkansas who contracted to buy Arkansas land is subject to the personal jurisdiction of an Arkansas court in a foreclosure suit on the land. Ratliff v. Thompson, 267 Ark. 349, 590 S.W.2d 291 (1979).

State courts had personal jurisdiction over persons who not only owned the property in the state that was the subject of foreclosure, but also lived on the property when they negotiated and consummated the defaulted loan, which was the basis of the suit. Horne v. Savers Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass'n, 295 Ark. 182, 747 S.W.2d 580 (1988).

Special Appearance.

Special appearance in an Arkansas court to contest the jurisdiction of the court and move for continuance did not subject nonresident to "long arm" personal jurisdiction. Cotton v. Cotton, 3 Ark. App. 158, 623 S.W.2d 540 (1981).

Tortious Injury.

Nonresident putative father was not subject to personal jurisdiction under former subdivision C.1.(c) of this section on ground that child was conceived in Arkansas, since sexual intercourse between consenting adults is not a "tortious act" so as to confer jurisdiction. Howard v. County Court, 272 Ark. 205, 613 S.W.2d 386 (1981).

In a suit against United States for damages for death of enlisted person due to sexual harassment by sergeant, former subdivision C.1.(c) of this section did not provide basis for jurisdiction over sergeant who had no contacts with Arkansas. Stubbs v. United States, 593 F. Supp. 521

(E.D. Ark. 1984), aff'd, 744 F.2d 58 (8th Cir. 1984).

While nonresident driver committed a tortious injury in Arkansas which served as a basis for personal jurisdiction over him in action for personal injuries, that tortious act did not give rise to cause of action for failure to settle under driver's insurance policy, which failure was an act of insurer and not of driver; the trial court erred in holding that driver's conduct was sufficient to support personal jurisdiction under this section in that action. Franklin v. Griffith, 282 Ark. 271, 668 S.W.2d 518 (1984).

When personal jurisdiction is based solely upon the provisions that "only a cause of action or claim for relief arising from acts enumerated in this section may be asserted" against a defendant, there must be a relationship between the defendant's connection with Arkansas and the injury complained of. Slocum v. Sandestin Beach Resort Hotel, 679 F. Supp. 899 (E.D. Ark. 1988).

In order to exercise jurisdiction under former subdivision C.1.(d) of this section, the tortious injury must occur in Arkansas, but the business activities of the defendant need not be related to the tortious injury. Brown v. PST Vans, Inc., 794 F. Supp. 299 (W.D. Ark. 1992).

A fair interpretation of the allegations made by plaintiff allowed the conclusion that her inability to find a job in Arkansas resulted from allegedly defamatory statements attributed to defendant; therefore, regarding the claim of defamation, the amended complaint stated a claim as to personal jurisdiction under this statute. Brown v. PST Vans, Inc., 794 F. Supp. 299 (W.D. Ark. 1992).

Personal jurisdiction over an out-of-state trucking company was not dependent on this section where, at trial, the proof was not in dispute as to the situs of the collision; thus, Arkansas acquired personal jurisdiction over the defendant under § 16-58-120 because the plaintiff's cause of action arose directly from an act committed in this state by the agent of the defendant. Watkins Motor Lines v. Hedrick, 316 Ark. 683, 873 S.W.2d 814 (1994).

—Injury in State Caused by Action Outside State.

Under former subdivision C.1.(d) of this section, an Arkansas court had jurisdiction tion over foreign corporations in action for tort and breach of warranty even though the corporations had no offices or agents within the state and their products entered the state only through being incorporated in the products of others sold within the state or through sale by manufacturer's agents and independent brokers. Pennsalt Chem. Corp. v. Crown Cork & Seal Co., 244 Ark. 638, 426 S.W.2d 417 (1968).

Nonresident corporation deriving substantial revenue from goods sold in Arkansas held subject to jurisdiction. International Harvester Co. v. Hendrickson Mfg. Co., 249 Ark. 298, 459 S.W.2d 62 (1970); Jeanway Indus., Inc. v. Knudson Mfg. Co., 533 F. Supp. 678 (W.D. Ark. 1981); Marshall Constr. Co. v. M. Berger Co., 533 F. Supp. 793 (W.D. Ark. 1982).

Where nonresident manufacturer engaged in a persistent course of conduct or derived substantial revenue from use of its goods in Arkansas, there were sufficient substantial contacts with the state for this section to apply, and this result was not changed by the fact that the complaint sounded in warranty rather than negligence or strict liability since former subdivision C.1.(d) of this section applies both to actions for breach of warranty and to actions in tort. Trace X Chem., Inc. v. Gulf Oil Chems. Co., 519 F. Supp. 826 (W.D. Ark. 1981).

Defendant's contacts with the state, which were the mailing of monthly payments to, and maintaining an escrow account at, the plaintiff bank within the state, were insufficient to render her subject to personal jurisdiction under former subdivision C.1.(d) of this section. Union Nat'l Bank v. Thornton, 293 Ark. 385, 738 S.W.2d 103 (1987).

—Injury Outside State.

Arkansas courts held not to have jurisdiction over nonresident defendant where injury occurred in another state. Krone v. AMI, Inc., 367 F. Supp. 1141 (E.D. Ark. 1973); Jeanway Indus., Inc. v. Knudson Mfg. Co., 533 F. Supp. 678 (W.D. Ark. 1981); Williams v. GMC, 573 F. Supp. 577 (E.D. Ark. 1983); Carter v. Wilson, 279 Ark. 58, 648 S.W.2d 472 (1983).

To confer jurisdiction on court under this section, the connection between defendant's activities in Arkansas and plaintiff's injuries in another state must be actual and not merely antecedent. Martin v. Kelley Elec. Co., 371 F. Supp. 1225 (E.D. Ark. 1974).

Where nonresident manufacturer engaged in a persistent course of conduct or derived substantial revenue from use of its goods in Arkansas, there were sufficient substantial contacts with the state for this section to apply, and this result was not changed by the fact that the complaint sounded in warranty rather than negligence or strict liability since former subdivision C.1.(d) of this section applies both to actions for breach of warranty and to actions in tort. Trace X Chem., Inc. v. Gulf Oil Chems. Co., 519 F. Supp. 826 (W.D. Ark. 1981).

Tortious acts in Arkansas held to confer jurisdiction over nonresident defendant where injury occurred in another state. Wright v. Newman, 539 F. Supp. 1331 (W.D. Ark. 1982), vacated, 735 F.2d 1073 (8th Cir. Mo. 1984).

The failure to allege facts connecting the transaction of Arkansas business to the accident in a foreign state was fatal to the cause of action, where such allegations were required by the long-arm statute to establish personal jurisdiction over a nonresident defendant. Malone & Hyde, Inc. v. Chisley, 308 Ark. 308, 825 S.W.2d 558 (1992).

Transacting Business.

Neither marriage nor living with a person constitutes transacting any business in the state on which personal jurisdiction can be exercised by the chancery court in a divorce action. Jenkins v. Jenkins, 257 Ark. 137, 514 S.W.2d 701 (1974).

Nonresident defendant held to have transacted business in state so as to confer jurisdiction on Arkansas courts. Shannon v. Fidelity Nat'l Bank, 259 Ark. 186, 531 S.W.2d 958 (1976); Stivers v. Pacific Bldg., Inc., 269 Ark. 294, 601 S.W.2d 822 (1980); Helm v. Mid-America Indus., Inc., 301 Ark. 521, 785 S.W.2d 209, cert. denied, Helm v. Mid-America Industries, Inc., 498 U.S. 850, 111 S. Ct. 142, 112 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1990); American Gen. Fire & Cas. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 791 F. Supp. 763 (W.D. Ark. 1992).

Nonresident defendant held not to have transacted business in state so as to subject itself to Arkansas jurisdiction. Hutson v. Fehr Bros., 584 F.2d 833 (8th Cir. 1978), cert. denied, Fehr Bros., Inc. v. Weissen- fels, 439 U.S. 983, 99 S. Ct. 573, 58 L. Ed. 2d 654 (1978); Roger N. Joyce & Assocs. v. Paoli Steel Corp., 491 F. Supp. 1095 (E.D. Ark. 1980); Pearrow v. National Life & Accident Ins. Co., 703 F.2d 1067 (8th Cir. 1983); Williams v. GMC, 573 F. Supp. 577 (E.D. Ark. 1983); Davis v. Kroger Co., 576 F. Supp. 1156 (W.D. Ark. 1983).

Where a Pennsylvania corporation began transacting business within this state, those transactions would not render the corporation subject to the in personam jurisdiction of an Arkansas court in a suit arising from activities which occurred prior to that time. Carter Oil Co. v. Apex Towing Co., 532 F. Supp. 364 (E.D. Ark. 1981).

The purpose of the "transacting business" provision is to permit the trial court to exercise the maximum personal jurisdiction over nonresident defendant allowable by due process, and the provision should be given a broad and liberal interpretation. Jagitsch v. Commander Aviation Corp., 9 Ark. App. 159, 655 S.W.2d 468 (1983); Moran v. Bombardier Credit, Inc., 39 Ark. App. 122, 839 S.W.2d 538 (1992); Glenn v. Student Loan Guarantee Found., 53 Ark. App. 132, 920 S.W.2d 500 (1996).

The Arkansas legislature intended the term "transacting business" to be construed to expand jurisdiction to the modern constitutional limit. Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., 13 Ark. App. 229, 682 S.W.2d 763 (1985), cert. denied, Meachum v. Worthen Bank & Trust Co., N.A., 474 U.S. 844, 106 S. Ct. 132, 88 L. Ed. 2d 108 (1985); F & M Bank v. Hamilton Hotel Partners Ltd. Partnership, 702 F. Supp. 1417 (W.D. Ark. 1988).

In an action by a local broker against the president of a commodities brokerage business for fraud and market manipulation under the Commodities Exchange Act, the district court properly asserted personal jurisdiction over the defendant where the defendant telephoned and visited the local broker's office to trade on both customer accounts and personal accounts. Dudley v. Dittmer, 795 F.2d 669 (8th Cir. 1986).

Although the Arkansas legislature intended the term "transacting business" to be construed to expand the in personam jurisdiction of its courts over nonresident defendants to the maximum allowed by due process, the use of arteries of interstate mail and telephone is insufficient, standing alone, to satisfy due process. Slocum v. Sandestin Beach Resort Hotel, 679 F. Supp. 899 (E.D. Ark. 1988).

Where the defendant has created continuing obligations between himself and residents of the forum, he manifestly has availed himself of the privilege of conducting business there, and because his activities are shielded by the benefits and protections of the forum's laws, it is presumptively not unreasonable to require him to submit to the burdens of litigation in that forum as well. Ultimatix, Inc. v. Minimatic, Inc., 715 F. Supp. 1448 (W.D. Ark. 1989).

Where defendant's employee, pursuant to contract for jointly purchased aircraft engine, stopped in Marion, Arkansas while en route from Texas to Indiana on other business, and attempted delivery to plaintiff but left none of the engine because a dispute arose over identity of property agreed upon, defendant engaged in a purposeful act sufficiently substantial to subject it to long-arm jurisdiction in Arkansas. Papachristou v. Turbines Inc., 902 F.2d 685 (8th Cir. 1990).

Telephone and mail transactions of foreign company not qualified to do business in Arkansas do not, standing alone, satisfy the minimum contacts required by due process to bring company within Arkansas's jurisdiction. CDI Contractors v. Goff Steel Erectors, Inc., 301 Ark. 311, 783 S.W.2d 846 (1990).

Where nonresident defendant had no offices, agents, or property in Arkansas, was not licensed to conduct business in Arkansas and contended it did not, and at no time did any employee or representative of defendant come to Arkansas to deal with plaintiff, defendant's activities did not rise to the status of transacting any business in this state and did not have the minimum contacts required with the State of Arkansas for purposes of the Fourteenth Amendment. Dickson v. Hawker-Siddeley Power Eng'g, Inc., 763 F. Supp. 1006 (W.D. Ark. 1991).

16-4-102. Service.

A. MANNER AND PROOF OF SERVICE.

1. When the law of this state authorizes service outside this state, the service, when reasonably calculated to give actual notice, may be made:

(a) By personal delivery in the manner prescribed for service within this state;

(b) In the manner prescribed by the law of the place in which the service is made for service in that place in an action in any of its courts of general jurisdiction;

(c) By any form of mail addressed to the person to be served and requiring a signed receipt;

(d) As directed by the foreign authority in response to a letter rogatory; or

(e) As directed by the court.

2. Proof of service outside this state may be made by affidavit of the individual who made the service or in the manner prescribed by the law of this state, the order pursuant to which the service is made, or the law of the place in which the service is made for proof of service in an action in any of its courts of general jurisdiction. When service is made by mail, proof of service shall include a receipt signed by the addressee or other evidence of personal delivery to the addressee satisfactory to the court.

B. INDIVIDUALS ELIGIBLE TO MAKE SERVICE. Service outside this state may be made by any individual permitted to make service of process under the law of this state or the law of the place in which the service is made or who is designated by a court of this state. In addition, any attorney for a party is eligible to make service of process in the manner prescribed in subparagraphs (c) and (e) of paragraph 1 of subsection A. of this section.

C. INDIVIDUALS TO BE SERVED; SPECIAL CASES. When the law of this state requires that in order to effect service, one (1) or more designated individuals be served, service outside this state under this section must be made upon the individual or individuals.

D. ASSISTANCE TO TRIBUNALS AND LITIGANTS OUTSIDE THIS STATE.

1. Any court of record of this state may order service upon any person who is domiciled or can be found within this state of any document issued in connection with a proceeding in a tribunal outside this state. The order may be made upon application of any interested person or in response to a letter rogatory issued by a tribunal outside this state and shall direct the manner of service.

2. Service in connection with a proceeding in a tribunal outside this state may be made within this state without an order of court.

3. Service under this section does not, of itself, require the recognition or enforcement of an order, judgment, or decree rendered outside this state.

E. OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW UNAFFECTED. This section does not repeal or modify any other law of this state permitting another procedure for service.

History. Acts 1963, No. 101, § 2; 1973, §§ 16-58-120 — 16-58-128, § 16-58-130. No. 37, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 27-2503. Summons, ARCP 4(c).

Alternative Service.

Where, under the circumstances, plaintiff was denied in its efforts to give defendants actual or personal service provided for out-of-state persons under the methods set forth under subdivision A.1. of this section and ARCP 4(e), plaintiff was relegated to obtain service of process on defendants under ARCP 4(f), which is another effective procedure for service under this section, the long-arm law; subsection E. of this section provides this section does not repeal or modify any other law of this state permitting another procedure for service. Horne v. Savers Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass'n, 295 Ark. 182, 747 S.W.2d 580 (1988).

Individuals Eligible to Make Service.

Summons could be served by the sheriff of the county in which property was located. Stivers v. Pacific Bldg., Inc., 269 Ark. 294, 601 S.W.2d 822 (1980).

Refusal of Summons.

One who is subject to the long-arm jurisdiction of a court of Arkansas cannot defeat jurisdiction by the simple expedient of refusing to accept a registered letter containing a summons. Merriott v. Whitsell, 251 Ark. 1031, 476 S.W.2d 230 (1972).

Service on Agent.

The long-arm statute displaced the common law principle of the transitory cause of action as a rationale for asserting jurisdiction over corporate defendants and required that the cause of action arise out of prescribed conduct such as the transaction of business in Arkansas. To the extent that Running v. Southwest Freight Lines, 227 Ark. 839, 303 S.W.2d 578 (1957), stands for the principle that service upon an agent appointed by a foreign corporation to receive process in this state confers personal jurisdiction in a transitory action regardless of the long-arm statute, it is overruled. Malone & Hyde, Inc. v. Chisley, 308 Ark. 308, 825 S.W.2d 558 (1992).

Validity of Service.

In a personal injury action arising from an automobile accident, where a copy of the complaint and summons, which was mailed to the out-of-state address of defendant's brother, was returned marked "undelivered," plaintiff failed to exercise the reasonable diligence required in determining defendant's last known address and, therefore, the default judgment based on the purported service was void. Canal Ins. Co. v. Hall, 259 Ark. 797, 536 S.W.2d 702 (1976).

If a summons misstated the amount of time allowed for an answer, that discrepancy would not render the summons factually defective so as to prevent service under this section. Stivers v. Pacific Bldg., Inc., 269 Ark. 294, 601 S.W.2d 822 (1980).

Nonresident corporation not authorized to do business in Arkansas was not properly served with notice under this section where the attempt to use the Secretary of State resulted in the notice being returned. A.O. Smith Harvestore Prods., Inc. v. Burnside, 282 Ark. 27, 665 S.W.2d 288 (1984).

CASE NOTES

Charitable Immunity.

Although Arkansas still recognizes the common-law doctrine of charitable immunity, it is very narrowly construed; the following list is illustrative but not determinative of the factors used to determine whether an organization is entitled to charitable immunity: (1) whether the organization’s charter limits it to charitable or eleemosynary purposes; (2) whether the organization’s charter contains a “not-for-profit” limitation; (3) whether the organization’s goal is to break even; (4) whether the organization earned a profit; (5) whether any profit or surplus must be used for charitable or eleemosynary purposes; (6) whether the organization depends on contributions and donations for its existence; (7) whether the organization provides its service free of charge to those unable to pay; and (8) whether the directors and officers receive compensation. Ouachita Wilderness Inst. v. Mergen, 329 Ark. 405, 947 S.W.2d 780 (1997).

This subchapter may be cited as the “Arkansas Volunteer Immunity Act”.

16-6-102. Purpose.

Since the spirit of volunteerism has long animated citizens of this state to give of their time and abilities to help others, the State of Arkansas would be wise to ensure that qualified volunteers shall not be civilly liable for personal injury or property damage resulting from any act or omission in carrying out their authority or responsibilities as volunteers. While there are no known recent instances in Arkansas where a volunteer has been subjected to personal liability for negligence in performing volunteer duties and there are no cases presently known to be pending, the recent publicity generated in relation to the perceived insurance crisis has heightened concern among many who would provide volunteer services, making it more difficult to provide certain important services, cultural and educational events, and other opportunities to the citizens of the State of Arkansas through voluntary services. This subchapter limits and defines the liability of volunteers in order to diminish their concern with regard to personal liability associated with volunteer work in order that the state might maximize this important human resource.

16-6-103. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Qualified volunteer” means any person who of free will provides goods or services without financial compensation to or through any volunteer agency in connection with a volunteer program;

(2) “Volunteer agency” means any volunteer program of all departments, institutions, and divisions of state government, community volunteer organization, or any not-for-profit corporation which has received a 501(c)(3) designation from the United States Internal Revenue Service, other than one established principally for the recreational benefit of its stockholders or members; and

(3) “Volunteer activity” means any activity within the scope of any project, program, effort, or other regular activity sponsored by a volunteer agency with the intent to effect a charitable purpose or confer other public benefit, including, but not limited to, enhancement of the cultural, civic, religious, educational, scientific, or economic resources of the community.

History. Acts 1987, No. 390, § 3.

U.S. Code. The phrase “a 501(c)(3) designation” refers to an exemption codified at 26 U.S.C. § 501(c)(3).

16-6-104. Volunteer not vicariously liable — Construction of subchapter.

(a) A qualified volunteer shall not be held vicariously liable for the negligence of another in connection with or as a consequence of his or her volunteer activities.

(b) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to limit the liability of a person acting outside the scope of the volunteer program.

(c) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to limit the liability of any volunteer agency.

History. Acts 1987, No. 390, §§ 4, 6, 7.

CASE NOTES

Volunteer Agency.

A juvenile rehabilitation camp housing juvenile offenders, as a volunteer agency, was not entitled to immunity under this subchapter, nor entitled to charitable immunity under the common-law doctrine of charitable immunity. Ouachita Wilderness Inst. v. Mergen, 329 Ark. 405, 947 S.W.2d 780 (1997).

16-6-105. Nonliability for damages — Exceptions.

A qualified volunteer shall not be liable in damages for personal injury or property damage sustained by one who is a participant in or a recipient, consumer, or user of the services or benefits of a volunteer by reason of any act or omission of a qualified volunteer in connection with the volunteer except as follows:

(1) Where the qualified volunteer is covered by a policy of insurance, in which case liability for ordinary negligence is limited to the amount of coverage provided;

(2) Where the qualified volunteer acts in bad faith or is guilty of gross negligence;

(3)(A) Where the qualified volunteer negligently operates a motor vehicle, aircraft, boat, or other powered mode of conveyance.

(B) If the actionable conduct of the qualified volunteer is covered by a policy of liability insurance, his or her liability for ordinary negligence shall be limited to the amount of the coverage provided; or (4)(A) Where the qualified volunteer negligently performs professional services extended to an individual which the qualified volunteer is licensed under state law to perform, including, but not limited to, legal, engineering, and accounting services.

CASE NOTES

Constitutionality.
Writ of prohibition was denied in a case challenging the constitutionality of subsection (b) of this section because a circuit court had jurisdiction to hear a motion relating to estate administration due to

Ark. Const., Amend. 80, § 6, and the constitutionality of a statute could have been heard by a circuit court and appealed. Ellis v. Reynolds, 368 Ark. 572, 247 S.W.3d 845 (2007).

(b) The elements of government expressed or implied by § 16-7-201 are authorized to use arbitration, private judging, mediation-arbitration, fact finding, mini-trials, and summary jury trials in resolving any and all disputes, cases, or controversies in which they may be directly or indirectly involved, whether between themselves and members of the public, or their employees or bona fide employee organizations, or corporations, or nonprofit organizations, or any other state or local officer, agency, government, or entity of this state or of any other state or any element or entity of the federal government, so long as the parties have agreed to participate. (c) If this section conflicts with other legal requirements for disclosure of communications or materials, the issue of confidentiality may be presented to the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings to determine in camera whether the facts, circumstances, and context of the communications or materials sought to be disclosed warrant a protective order of the court or whether the communications or materials are subject to disclosure.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

Preambles. Acts 1959, No. 5 contained a preamble which read: "Whereas, Canon 30 of the Canons of Judicial Ethics of the American Bar Association provides that if a judge should decide to become a candidate for any office not judicial, he should resign in order that it cannot be said that he is using the power or prestige of his judicial position to promote his own candidacy;

"Whereas, the Canons of Professional Ethics and Judicial Ethics have been approved by the bench and bar of the State of Arkansas...."

Acts 1981, No. 477 contained a preamble which read: "Whereas there are approximately 30,000 deaf citizens residing in the State of Arkansas; and

"Whereas, there is no provision in the laws of this State providing for an impartial and verbatim translation of court proceedings wherein deaf persons are either parties thereto or called as witnesses therein; and

"Whereas, this Act is necessary in order to insure the integrity of our judicial process in the eyes and minds of our deaf citizens;

"Now, therefore...."

Effective Dates. Acts 1931, No. 153, § 5: effective on passage.

Acts 1971, No. 536, § 2: Apr. 5, 1971. Emergency clause provided: "The General Assembly hereby finds that backlogs of criminal cases existing in some circuits may require the assignment of additional judges to said circuits in accordance with Act 496 of 1965; that it may be excessively time consuming and expensive to select a jury panel for said judges unless this act is passed; that this Act is necessary to fully implement Act 496 of 1965; therefore, this Act being necessary for the expeditious dispatch of criminal cases within the State of Arkansas, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Acts 1971, No. 599, § 3: Apr. 7, 1971. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the salary of the executive secretary of the Judicial Department should be fixed from time to time by the General Assembly and the Appropriation Act establishing the biennial appropriation for the Judicial Department; and that the retirement benefits of the executive secretary should be clarified; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act may such objectives be accomplished. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1977, No. 209, § 4: Feb. 21, 1977. Emergency clause provided: "Because of drastic increases in the price of gasoline and other travel expenses in recent years and many judges are now suffering personal losses, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 82, § 3: Feb. 7, 1979; Acts 1980 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 2, § 3: Jan. 25, 1980. Emergency clauses provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that in some courts in the State there is a serious backlog of cases, some of which have been pending in excess of a year; that it is essential to the effective administration of justice that civil matters which have been pending on court dockets for a long period of time be heard and disposed of as soon as possible; that this Act is designed to provide a procedure for the prompt disposition of those cases that have been pending in the courts a year or more and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

ANALYSIS

Assignments.

Special Judges.

Assignments.

It is the parties' or trial court's responsibility to apprise the Supreme Court as to whether an assignment is necessary under this section. Once that assignment is made, that responsibility continues. Neal v. Wilson, 321 Ark. 70, 900 S.W.2d 177 (1995).

Newly Elected Judges.

Fact that a new circuit judge had been elected after judge's assignments did not, in itself, suggest the new circuit judge was not recused from trying the case. Neal v. Wilson, 321 Ark. 70, 900 S.W.2d 177 (1995).

Special Judges.

The exchange of circuits upon agreement of the circuit judges or the appointment of a judge by the Chief Justice were alternative methods of selecting a judge to preside over the impaneling of a grand jury to investigate the trial judge of the circuit court. State v. George, 250 Ark. 968, 470 S.W.2d 593 (1971).

Where special judge, lawfully elected pursuant to Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 21 [repealed], had already exercised jurisdiction over pending case, his judgment would take priority over the judgments of a judge assigned at a later date pursuant to this section. Wessell Bros. Foundation Drilling Co. v. Crossett Public School Dist., 287 Ark. 415, 701 S.W.2d 99 (1985).

ANALYSIS

Applicability.

Jury Selection.

Pretrial Proceedings.

Voir Dire.

Applicability.

This section prohibits a trial court judge from excluding members of the public from a "Denno" hearing conducted pursuant to § 16-89-107 and from excluding a newspaper reporter unless she agrees to a censorship of any story she might write about the hearing. Shiras v. Britt, 267 Ark. 97, 589 S.W.2d 18 (1979).

Jury Selection.

Jury selection is a stage of the proceedings where openness is particularly appropriate under the guarantee of a public trial provided for in U.S. Const., Amend. 6, Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 10, and this section. Memphis Publishing Co. v. Burnett, 316 Ark. 176, 871 S.W.2d 359 (1994).

Presence of Officers.

In trials attracting large audiences, it is not improper to have enough officers to enforce order and to protect the accused from violence and to prevent his escape or possible rescue. Thus, in prosecution for murder, presence in the courtroom of numerous officers in uniform as well as certain United States Marines who attended either as spectators or as witnesses, the deceased having been a Marine, was a matter within the discretion of the trial court. Rayburn v. State, 200 Ark. 914, 141 S.W.2d 532 (1940).

Pretrial Proceedings.

In order to overcome the presumption of open pretrial hearings, the proponent of closure must demonstrate a substantial probability that (1) irreparable damage to the defendant's fair trial right will result from an open hearing, and (2) alternatives to closure will not adequately protect the right to a fair trial. Additionally, the trial court's findings must be articulated and sufficiently specific to demonstrate on review that these requirements have been satisfied. Arkansas Television Co. v. Tedder, 281 Ark. 152, 662 S.W.2d 174 (1983).

Pretrial proceedings and their record must be open to the public, including representatives of the news media, and before an exception to that general rule is made, the test set out in Arkansas Television Co. v. Tedder, 281 Ark. 152, 662 S.W.2d 174 (1983), must be met; if that standard is met and a pleading is ordered sealed, it must be opened to the public as soon as the probability of irreparable damage to the accused's right to a fair trial no longer exists. Arkansas Newspaper, Inc. v. Patterson, 281 Ark. 213, 662 S.W.2d 826 (1984).

Pretrial proceedings should not have been closed to the public where there was no showing that a substantial probability that irreparable damage to the defendant's fair trial right would result from an open hearing and that alternatives to closure would not adequately protect the right to a fair trial. Arkansas Newspaper, Inc. v. Patterson, 281 Ark. 213, 662 S.W.2d 826 (1984).

Voir Dire.

The trial court lacks the authority to prohibit the public and press from the voir dire examination. Commercial Printing Co. v. Lee, 262 Ark. 87, 553 S.W.2d 270 (1977).

In accordance with this section and Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 10, the voir dire examination of the jury must be held in open court; the right to an open trial may be asserted by the public, the press, and the accused. Taylor v. State, 284 Ark. 103, 679 S.W.2d 797 (1984).

16-10-106. Power to issue writs and process.

Contempt.

Failure to comply with order of county court could be punished as contempt by proper proceeding. Penix v. Shaddox, 165 Ark. 152, 263 S.W. 389 (1924).

Scope of Authority.

Although this section provides that all courts shall have the power to issue process which may be necessary in the exercise of their respective jurisdictions, it does not provide the trial court with carte blanche authority to issue orders of body attachment, detention, and custody, while ignoring portions of statutory provisions relating to contempt proceedings, such as § 16-10-108(c), and without affording procedural protections of due process of law to the parties being placed in arrest and custody. Bates v. McNeil, 318 Ark. 764, 888 S.W.2d 642 (1994).

The circuit court may issue supersedeas to stay proceedings in case appealed to that court in order to preserve the status quo. Reese v. Steel, 73 Ark. 66, 83 S.W. 335 (1904); Williams v. Buchanan, 84 Ark. 404, 106 S.W. 202 (1907); Strangways v. Ringgold, 106 Ark. 433, 153 S.W. 619 (1913).

16-10-107. Process and proceedings to be in English language.

All writs, process, proceedings, and records in any court shall be in the English language, except that the proper and known name of process and technical words may be expressed in the language commonly used. They shall be made out on paper or parchment, in a fair and legible character, in words at length and not abbreviated; but such abbreviations as are commonly used in the English language may be used. Numbers may be expressed by Arabic figures or Roman numerals in the customary way.

16-10-108. Contempt.

(a) Every court of record shall have power to punish, as for criminal contempt, persons guilty of the following acts and no others:

(1) Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior committed during the court's sitting, in its immediate view and presence, and directly tending to interrupt its proceedings or to impair the respect due to its authority;

(2) Any breach of the peace, noise, or disturbance directly tending to interrupt its proceedings;

(3) Willful disobedience of any process or order lawfully issued or made by it;

(4) Resistance willfully offered by any person to the lawful order or process of the court; and

(5) The contumacious and unlawful refusal of any person to be sworn as a witness and when so sworn a similar refusal to answer any legal and proper interrogatory.

(b)(1) Punishment for contempt is a Class C misdemeanor.

(2) A court shall always have power to imprison until its adjournment.

(3) When any person is committed to prison for the nonpayment of any such fine, he or she shall be discharged at the expiration of thirty (30) days.

(c) Contempts committed in the immediate view and presence of the court may be punished summarily. In other cases, the party charged shall be notified of the accusation and shall have a reasonable time to make his or her defense.

(d)(1) Whenever any person is committed for a contempt under the provisions of this section, the substance of his or her offense shall be set forth in the order or warrant of commitment.

(2) Nothing in subdivision (d)(1) of this section shall be construed to extend to any proceedings against parties or officers, as for contempt, for the purpose of enforcing any civil right or remedy.

(e) A person punished for contempt under subsections (a)-(d) of this section shall, notwithstanding, be liable to an indictment for the contempt if the contempt is an indictable offense, but the court before which a conviction may be had on such an indictment shall, in forming its sentence, take into consideration the punishment previously inflicted.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment rewrote (b)(1); inserted "or she" in (b)(3); and inserted "or her" in (c) and (d)(1).

Constitutionality.

This section, which sets forth the powers of the court in punishing criminal contempt, is not a limitation on the power of the court to inflict punishment for disobedience of process, for, under Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 26, the legislature cannot abridge the power of the courts to punish for contempt in disobedience of their process; the constitution specially reserved this inherent power in the courts when delegating authority to the legislature to regulate punishments for contempts. Yarbrough v. Yarbrough, 295 Ark. 211, 748 S.W.2d 123 (1988).

Where a juvenile was deprived of his right to counsel during a contempt proceeding because the juvenile only had the services of an attorney ad litem and not a defense attorney, the juvenile's due process rights were violated and the court's orders were invalid. Ark. Dep't of Human Servs. v. Mainard, 358 Ark. 204, 188 S.W.3d 901 (2004).

Purpose.

The purpose of a criminal contempt proceeding is that it is brought to preserve the power and vindicate the dignity of the court and to punish for disobedience of its order. A civil contempt proceeding is instituted to preserve and enforce the rights of private parties to suits and to compel obedience to orders and decrees made for the benefit of those parties. Fitzhugh v. State, 296 Ark. 137, 752 S.W.2d 275 (1988).

Applicability.

Subsection (b) of this section does not apply to contempts committed by offering physical violence to judge at time when court is not in session. Weldon v. State, 150 Ark. 407, 234 S.W. 466 (1921).

Evidence was sufficient to support a finding of contempt against the attorney where the attorney frequently interrupted the judge and argued with him; however, the appellate court found that the justification for contempt would be served by reducing the attorney's jail sentence from 10 days to three days, with credit given for time served. McCullough v. State, 353 Ark. 362, 108 S.W.3d 582 (2003).

Contrary to the attorney's argument, the father, through his guardian ad litem, did not file a motion for contempt under subsection (c) of this section, but rather filed a motion to quash the deposition, which contained a request for sanctions under Ark. R. App. P. Civ. 11; the trial court did not enter a contempt order against the attorney, but he argued such on appeal and did not develop an argument regarding the Rule 11 sanctions, and because he failed to do so, the court refused to develop an argument for him and thus the court affirmed. McDermott v. Sharp, 371 Ark. 462, 267 S.W.3d 582 (2007).

Actions Constituting Contempt.

Interfering with property in custody of law with or without consent of the attaching officer is contempt. Atkins v. Swope, 38 Ark. 528 (1881).

Preventing a party from attending court is contempt. Turk v. State, 123 Ark. 341, 185 S.W. 472 (1916).

—Disobeying Order.

Court may refuse to hear a party in contempt for disobeying its order. Pickett v. Ferguson, 45 Ark. 177 (1885).

It is a contempt of the Supreme Court for a clerk to contumaciously disobey an order to furnish a transcript of the record in a case when commanded by writ of error, mandamus, or other legal method.

Barstow v. Pine Bluff, M. & N.O.R.R., 54 Ark. 551, 16 S.W. 574 (1891).

When a receiver has been appointed and has taken possession of property under his appointment, it is a contempt to attempt to deprive him of that possession by force or by judicial proceedings without the permission of the court that made the appointment. Walker v. Geo. Taylor Comm'n Co., 56 Ark. 1, 18 S.W. 1056, 19 S.W. 601 (1892).

Party held guilty of contempt for willful disobedience of court's order. Hervey v. Hervey, 186 Ark. 179, 52 S.W.2d 963 (1932); Hall v. State, 237 Ark. 293, 372 S.W.2d 603 (1963).

Where the failure or refusal to abide by an order of the court is the issue, the appellate court does not look behind the order to determine whether the order is valid. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

Attorney's actions in disobeying the court's order fell within the inherent powers of the court to punish for contempt under Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 26 and the court was not bound by the limitations set out in this section. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

Attorney jailed five days for criminal contempt for his willful and continued disobedience of the Supreme Court's per curiam orders directing him to file the abstract and brief in a criminal appeal. Pipkin v. State, 320 Ark. 159, 896 S.W.2d 432 (1995).

Attorneys, found in contempt for failing to comply with directives, demonstrated not only mismanagement of their client's affairs, but also an inability to fulfill their obligations to the Supreme Court in failing to file a brief, even after extensions of time were granted to do so. Stone v. State, 321 Ark. 501, 902 S.W.2d 231 (1995).

Actions in violating orders enjoining parties' massive Christmas light displays fell within the inherent power of the court to punish for contempt. Osborne v. Power, 322 Ark. 229, 908 S.W.2d 340 (1995).

The court denied a petition for writ of certiorari on the issue of whether a citation for contempt was appropriate where a circuit court held two prosecuting attorneys in contempt and incarcerated them after they refused to proceed with the jury trial in a criminal case in contravention of the scheduling order. Johnson v. Johnson, 343 Ark. 186, 33 S.W.3d 492 (2000).

—Disobeying Process.

Where a party having actual notice of the issuance of a writ of injunction against him evades the service of the writ and violates the injunction, he is guilty of contempt, if the court had jurisdiction to make the order. Pitcock v. State, 91 Ark. 527, 121 S.W. 742 (1909).

One who, even without force or intimidation or direct refusal to obey process, hinders or prevents the prompt service thereof by deception or artifice is guilty of contempt of court. Bryan v. State, 99 Ark. 163, 137 S.W. 561 (1911).

Petitioner held guilty of contempt for failure to respond to subpoena. Morrow v. Roberts, 250 Ark. 822, 467 S.W.2d 393 (1971).

Process, in the sense of this section, is a comprehensive term which includes all writs, rules, orders, executions, warrants, or mandates issued during the progress of an action, even those used to carry a judgment into effect, including a commitment to prison for a criminal offense or for contempt. Henderson v. Dudley, 264 Ark. 697, 574 S.W.2d 658 (1978).

The portion of a commitment order of the court concerning custody of defendant constituted process of the court. Henderson v. Dudley, 264 Ark. 697, 574 S.W.2d 658 (1978).

This section is not a limitation on the power of the courts to impose punishment for disobedience of process, because under Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 26 the legislature cannot abridge the power of the courts to punish for contempt in disobedience of their process. Arkansas Dep't of Human Servs. v. Clark, 305 Ark. 561, 810 S.W.2d 331 (1991).

Refusal to comply with a court order was "disobedience of process" even though the order was not in writing. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

—Failure to Answer Question.

A witness adjudged in contempt for failure to answer, after stating that to answer would criminate himself, was denied an appeal. Cossart v. State, 14 Ark. 538 (1854).

The fact that the questions asked a witness are irrelevant or improper furnishes no reason for impeaching the commitment for contempt. Ex parte Butt, 78 Ark. 262, 93 S.W. 992 (1906).

—Intoxication.

Defendant who appeared in court intoxicated was guilty of contempt even if defendant intended no disrespect. Burradell v. State, 326 Ark. 182, 931 S.W.2d 100 (1996).

—Publications.

Any citizen has the right to comment upon proceedings and decisions of the court, to discuss their correctness and the fitness or unfitness of the judges, but he has no right to degrade the court by libelous publications which are an abuse of the liberty of the press. State v. Morrill, 16 Ark. 384 (1855).

Distribution of pamphlet tended to interfere with the orderly conduct of the judiciary by creating a clear and present danger to the administration of justice, and provided basis for contempt conviction. Tupy v. State, 234 Ark. 821, 354 S.W.2d 728 (1962).

—Statements.

It was a contempt of court for an attorney to assert in open court that he had heard the court was corrupt. Davies v. State, 73 Ark. 358, 84 S.W. 633 (1903).

Mere spoken words to a lawyer out of the presence of the court, which make no threat or attempt to interfere in any proceeding, do not amount to criminal contempt. Edwards v. Jameson, 284 Ark. 60, 679 S.W.2d 195 (1984).

Attorney's argument that the chancellor was biased and had already made her mind up about the case, that she had allowed a worst case scenario to take place, and that she would not even listen to him, was disrespectful and tended to impair the respect due the court's authority. Thus, it was contumacious. Hodges v. Gray, 321 Ark. 7, 901 S.W.2d 1 (1995).

Actions Not Constituting Contempt.

Filing repeated motions which are thought to be for the purpose of vexation or delay does not constitute contempt. Johnson v. State, 87 Ark. 45, 112 S.W. 143 (1908).

Evidence insufficient to establish contempt. Ex parte Winn, 105 Ark. 190, 150 S.W. 399 (1912).

Motion asking judge to recuse himself which contained allegations of criminal misconduct was not contemptuous and was not sufficient to form the basis of a conviction for criminal contempt. Clark v.

State, 291 Ark. 405, 725 S.W.2d 550 (1987).

Trial court had not issued an order commanding defense attorney from raising issue of informant's prior arrest and misdemeanor convictions for the purpose of showing informant's motive, plan or intent and could not find him in contempt for doing so. McCullough v. Lessenberry, 300 Ark. 426, 780 S.W.2d 9 (1989).

Actions Outside Court's Presence.

In contempts not committed in the court's presence, the court may initiate the proceeding to punish the contemnor by a statement or order spread upon the record, but notice thereof should be given to the defendant and a reasonable time afforded him to make his defense. Lee v. State, 102 Ark. 122, 143 S.W. 909 (1912).

There must be an accusation in court and notice to accused when contempt is committed outside presence of the court. Ex parte Coulter, 160 Ark. 550, 255 S.W. 15 (1923).

Contempt, as defined in this section, also includes breach of the peace in matters occurring outside the courtroom which tend to interrupt its proceedings; of course, willful disobedience of any lawful order of the court is considered contumacious conduct. Edwards v. Jameson, 284 Ark. 60, 679 S.W.2d 195 (1984).

This section merely requires, where the contempt is not committed in the court's presence, that the party charged be notified and have reasonable time to make this defense. Nelson v. Nelson, 20 Ark. App. 85, 723 S.W.2d 849 (1987).

Persons accused of criminal attempt committed outside the court's view must be first notified by a writing, sufficiently definite to inform them to a reasonable degree of certainty of the charge against them, and then be afforded a reasonable time and opportunity to prepare and defend themselves against the charge. Arkansas Dep't of Human Servs. v. Shipman, 25 Ark. App. 247, 756 S.W.2d 930 (1988).

An attorney's conduct in failing to appear occurs outside of presence of court and thus is indirect contempt which may not be summarily punished. Allison v. Dufresne, 340 Ark. 583, 12 S.W.3d 216 (2000).

Appeal.

All criminal contempt cases are to be reviewed by appeal instead of certiorari.

Frolic Footwear, Inc. v. State, 284 Ark. 487, 683 S.W.2d 611 (1985).

The proper procedure for the review of a citation holding a party's attorney in criminal contempt is for the attorney, not the party, to appeal the conviction. Marsh v. Hoff, 15 Ark. App. 272, 692 S.W.2d 270 (1985).

In an appeal of a case of criminal contempt, the appellate court will view the record in the light most favorable to the decision of the trial judge and sustain that decision if it is supported by substantial evidence. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

The Arkansas Supreme Court has jurisdiction of appeals in cases involving the discipline of attorneys-at-law, including contempt citations, pursuant to S. Ct. & Ct. App. Rule 1-2(a)(5). Davis v. State, 319 Ark. 171, 889 S.W.2d 769 (1994).

A writ of prohibition is not an appropriate vehicle for requesting that a contempt citation be reviewed and set aside. Davis v. State, 319 Ark. 171, 889 S.W.2d 769 (1994).

Authority of Court.

The right to punish for contempt is inherent in all courts. Neel v. State, 9 Ark. 259 (1849); Edwards v. Jameson, 284 Ark. 60, 679 S.W.2d 195 (1984).

This section is merely declaratory of what the law was before its passage; the prohibiting clause is entitled to respect as an opinion of the legislature but is not binding upon the courts. State v. Morrill, 16 Ark. 384 (1855).

Courts may go beyond the powers given by statute to enforce their constitutional powers when acts in contempt invade them. Lee v. State, 102 Ark. 122, 143 S.W. 909 (1912).

Subsection (b) of this section is not a limitation on power of courts to punish for contempt for disobedience of process. Spight v. State, 155 Ark. 26, 243 S.W. 860 (1922).

Order of chancery court appointing committee to investigate a law firm on charges of contempt and alleged violation of Code of Professional Ethics exceeded jurisdiction of court. Davis v. Merritt, 252 Ark. 659, 480 S.W.2d 924 (1972).

The fact that the actions on which the charge is based may constitute a criminal offense does not affect the jurisdiction of the court to punish the offender for contempt. Henderson v. Dudley, 264 Ark. 697, 574 S.W.2d 658 (1978).

Power to punish for contempt includes the right to inflict reasonable and appropriate punishment upon an offender against the authority and dignity of the court. Edwards v. Jameson, 284 Ark. 60, 679 S.W.2d 195 (1984).

Inherent power to punish for contempt resides in all courts, and such power cannot be removed by enactment of laws to the contrary. Smith v. Smith, 28 Ark. App. 56, 770 S.W.2d 205 (1989).

The standard regarding the inherent power of the court to sentence someone for contempt under this section is included in Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 26. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

Subdivision (a)(3) of this section is not a limitation on the power of the court to impose punishment for disobedience of process. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

Although § 16-10-106 provides that all courts shall have the power to issue process which may be necessary in the exercise of their respective jurisdictions, it does not provide the trial court with carte blanche authority to issue orders of body attachment, detention, and custody, while ignoring portions of statutory provisions relating to contempt proceedings, such as subsection (c) of this section, and without affording procedural protections of due process of law to the parties being placed in arrest and custody. Bates v. McNeil, 318 Ark. 764, 888 S.W.2d 642 (1994).

Whether or not defendant's behavior falls into one of the five categories in subsection (a) of this section, a court has inherent power to punish contemptuous behavior committed in its presence, without regard to the restrictions imposed by subsection (a); summary punishment for contempt committed in the presence of the court is an inherent power reserved to the judiciary and cannot be abridged by legislation. Burradell v. State, 326 Ark. 182, 931 S.W.2d 100 (1996).

Court Orders.

Before a person may be held in contempt for violating a court order, that order must be in definite terms as to the duties thereby imposed upon him, and the command must be expressed rather than implied. McCullough v. Lessenberry, 300 Ark. 426, 780 S.W.2d 9 (1989).

Due Process.

The Due Process Clause, as applied in criminal proceedings, requires that an alleged contemnor be notified that a charge of contempt is pending against him and be informed of the specific nature of that charge, and where notice of the charge and the nature thereof are not given, the judgment of conviction for contempt must be reversed. Fitzhugh v. State, 296 Ark. 137, 752 S.W.2d 275 (1988).

Appellant was not denied due process in contempt proceedings where he was afforded the rights required under this section, appellant acknowledged receipt of the motions which explained how he failed to comply with the order requiring him to provide certain financial information, he was given notice of the contempt hearing, and he was given the opportunity to present a defense at that hearing. Stilley v. Fort Smith Sch. Dist., 367 Ark. 193, 238 S.W.3d 902 (2006).

Jurisdiction.

Trial court erred in finding the defendant in contempt of court at his third probation revocation hearing because it lost jurisdiction to do so after it executed his sentence at his second revocation hearing by accepting his guilty plea and ordering him to pay a balance of fines, fees, and court costs. Pike v. State, 344 Ark. 478, 40 S.W.3d 795 (2001).

Notice.

In action for contempt of court where accused was informed of the basis of the alleged contempt in the attachment, was further advised of facts constituting the charge at the outset of the hearing, and was given an opportunity to make his defense, which he presented, that procedure was in full compliance with this section. Hall v. State, 237 Ark. 293, 372 S.W.2d 603 (1963).

Contempt order held deficient and set aside where it failed to inform defendant with reasonable certainty of the facts constituting the offense. Taliaferro v. Taliaferro, 252 Ark. 1078, 483 S.W.2d 189 (1972).

Notice held sufficient. Henderson v. Dudley, 264 Ark. 697, 574 S.W.2d 658 (1978).

There is no statutory requirement that the accused be given notice prior to the issuance of an order to show cause. Henderson v. Dudley, 264 Ark. 697, 574 S.W.2d 658 (1978); Clark v. State, 287 Ark. 221, 697 S.W.2d 895 (1985).

Notice held waived. Clark v. State, 287 Ark. 221, 697 S.W.2d 895 (1985).

Where defendant, who had appeared for a hearing on a petition to revoke a suspended sentence, was then first made aware of a criminal contempt charge and the nature and degree of the offense charged, his conviction of criminal contempt was reversed. Sellers v. State, 50 Ark. App. 32, 901 S.W.2d 853 (1995).

The Department of Human Services received constitutionally adequate notice of a show cause order on contempt; although it did not receive written notice of the first scheduled hearing, it was served with notice of the second scheduled hearing. Arkansas Dep't of Human Servs. v. R. P., 333 Ark. 516, 970 S.W.2d 225 (1998).

Notice of a criminal contempt proceeding was adequate where (1) the contemnor was personally served with a show cause order for the first hearing, (2) although the order did not describe the offense or order that was violated, she was present at the hearing where the matter was discussed, and (3) she was informed by telephone of the date of the second hearing. Arkansas Dep't of Human Servs. v. R. P., 333 Ark. 516, 970 S.W.2d 225 (1998).

Penalty.

An unconditional penalty is criminal in nature because it is solely and exclusively punitive in character whereas a conditional penalty is civil because it is specifically designed to compel the doing of some act. Fitzhugh v. State, 296 Ark. 137, 752 S.W.2d 275 (1988).

Where a fine is unconditional and is to be paid to the court, the punishment is punitive in nature as it has no coercive or compensatory aspect, and the contempt proceeding is criminal in nature. Fitzhugh v. State, 296 Ark. 137, 752 S.W.2d 275 (1988).

Where a circuit court judge held two prosecuting attorneys in contempt after they refused to proceed with the jury trial in a criminal case in contravention of the scheduling order and ordered them incarcerated, the court modified the contempt punishment to time already served in jail and assessed a $100 fine against each prosecutor. Johnson v. Johnson, 343 Ark. 186, 33 S.W.3d 492 (2000).

Punishment.

Imprisonment for contempt in disobeying an order to turn over specific funds found to be in defendant's hands is not an imprisonment for debt. Meeks v. State, 80 Ark. 579, 98 S.W. 378 (1906).

An order for the restitution of specific property or funds will be enforced by punishment for contempt only where the court has first found that such property or funds are in possession or under the control of the person ordered to make the restitution. Dodson v. Butler, 101 Ark. 416, 142 S.W. 503 (1912).

Punishment held excessive. Morrow v. Roberts, 250 Ark. 822, 467 S.W.2d 393 (1971).

Only contempts committed in the immediate view and presence of the trial court may be summarily punished; in all other cases, the party charged with contempt shall be notified of the accusation and afforded a reasonable time to make a defense. Harvell v. Harvell, 36 Ark. App. 24, 820 S.W.2d 463 (1991).

A sentence of 90 days in jail was held excessive. Carle v. Burnett, 311 Ark. 477, 845 S.W.2d 7 (1993).

Service of process.

Service in a criminal contempt proceeding was governed by this section, rather than ARCrP 6.3. Arkansas Dep't of Human Servs. v. R. P., 333 Ark. 516, 970 S.W.2d 225 (1998).

16-10-109. Reading of record — Signing.

Full entries of the orders and proceedings of all courts of record of each day shall be read in open court on the morning of the succeeding day. However, on the last day of the term, the minutes shall be read and signed at the rising of the court.

Judgments.

Judgments.

This section contemplates that the judgments entered do not become the pronouncements of the court until they have been approved by the court. Stanton v. Arkansas Democrat Co., 194 Ark. 135, 106 S.W.2d 584 (1937).

Signing.

This section does not require the circuit judge to sign the record of the preceding day every morning, but only at the close of the term, and the omission of the judge to sign the record at the close of the term will not invalidate judgments and decrees of the term, though such omission would be gross negligence and subject the judge to animadversion. Ex parte Slocomb Richards & Co., 9 Ark. (4 English) 375 (1849).

16-10-110. Seals.

(a) The Supreme Court and each of the circuit, district, city, and county courts shall preserve and keep a seal, with such emblems and devices as the court shall think proper.

(b) The impression of the seal of any court by stamp shall be sufficient sealing in all cases where sealing is required.

(c) When no official seal is provided, the clerk may use his or her private seal for the authentication of any record, process, or proceeding required by law to be authenticated by the seal of his or her court. The attestation of the clerk stating that he or she has no seal of office and that he or she has affixed his or her private seal shall be received as sufficient authentication without requiring any proof of the private seal or that it was affixed by the clerk.

However, the suit, action, appeal, etc., shall be and stand valid and effectual in the court at the new term, in every respect, as if no change had been made in the time of holding court.

Accepting Plea on Sunday.

Where the trial court accepted appellant's plea for capital felony murder on a Sunday, the statutory violation did not affect the trial court's jurisdiction over the matter; further, a petition for writ of habeas corpus was not the proper method with which to claim a statutory violation. Noble v. Norris, 368 Ark. 69, 243 S.W.3d 260 (2006).

Administrative Boards.

An order of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners suspending a chiropractor's license made at the conclusion of a hearing held on Sunday was void. Chester v. Arkansas State Bd. of Chiropractic Exmrs., 245 Ark. 846, 435 S.W.2d 100 (1968).

Defendant suffered from a hearing loss, but she offered no evidence that her hearing loss would qualify her as deaf as defined by subsection (f) of this section; thus, an interpreter was not required under § 16-89-105(c) and her motion to sup-

CASE NOTES

Purpose.

The legislature did not intend to create on behalf of youthful victims standing to pursue active involvement in pending criminal cases. This section mandates the urgent scheduling of those cases for trial in preference to all other cases, absent extraordinary circumstances, and the wording of this section does not suggest that anything other than a priority is intended. Thompson v. Erwin, 310 Ark. 533, 838 S.W.2d 353 (1992).

Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

16-10-301. Legislative intent.

(a) It is hereby found by the General Assembly that the current system of funding the state judicial system has created inequity in the level of judicial services available to the citizens of the state. It is further determined that the current method of financing the state judicial system has become so complex as to make the administration of the system impossible. Finally, it is determined that the lack of any reliable data on the current cost of the state judicial system prohibits any comprehensive change in the funding of the system at this time.

(b) It is, therefore, the intent of this act to eliminate the current system of collecting and assessing a large number of individual court costs and filing fees, to replace it with uniform costs and fees to be applied statewide, and to prohibit the implementation of new costs and fees for specific programs in the future.

ANALYSIS

In General.

Time Limitations.

In General.

Neither §§ 16-10-301 — 16-10-305 nor §§ 21-6-402 — 21-6-406 refer to a fee that may be charged by bailiffs, clerks, or the courts for potential juror information. Therefore, a circuit court erred when it refused to refund a $3.00 fee charged by a bailiff for potential juror information in a criminal case. Aikens v. State, 368 Ark. 641, 249 S.W.3d 788 (2007).

Time Limitations.

Where the state appealed and claimed that the trial court lacked jurisdiction to grant defendant’s post trial motion to correct court costs, the appellate court treated the appeal as a petition for writ of certiorari under Ark. R. App. P. Crim. 3 and found that, under Ark. R. Crim. P. 33.3(b), defendant’s motion was filed six days after the 30-day deadline and was thus untimely. State v. Boyette, 362 Ark. 27, 207 S.W.3d 488 (2005).

16-10-305. Court costs. [Effective January 1, 2012.]

(2) For offenses that are misdemeanors or violations of state law, excluding violations of the Omnibus DWI Act, § 5-65-101 et seq., in district court, one hundred dollars ($100);

(3) For traffic offenses that are misdemeanors or violations under state law or town or city ordinance, excluding violations of the Omnibus DWI Act, § 5-65-101 et seq., in district court, seventy-five dollars ($75.00);

(4) For nontraffic offenses that are misdemeanors or violations under town, city, or county ordinance in district court, twenty-five dollars ($25.00); and

(5) For violations of the Omnibus DWI Act, § 5-65-101 et seq., in circuit court or district court, three hundred dollars ($300).

(2) The costs shall be imposed at the conclusion of cases involving a suspended or probated sentence even though that sentence may be expunged or otherwise removed from the defendant's record.

(c) No county, city, or town shall be liable for the payment of the costs taxed under this section in any instance where they are not collected, or in any case in which the defendant pays the costs by serving time in a jail, on a county farm, or at any other official place of detention or work.

(d) No town, city, or county shall authorize and no district court or circuit court shall assess or collect any other court costs other than those authorized by this act, unless specifically provided by state law.

ANALYSIS

Purpose.
Applicability.

Purpose.

The intent of this section and § 16-87-306 is to provide representation for indigents in cases in which there is a potential for loss of liberty, but the provision of § 14-20-102 that grants authority for the trial court to appoint attorneys for minors in civil litigation to be paid by county funds, was not incorporated in the statutes establishing and defining the duties and responsibilities of the Commission. Arkansas Pub. Defender Comm’n v. Burnett, 340 Ark. 233, 12 S.W.3d 191 (2000).

Applicability.

This section, which allocates to the Public Defender Commission a portion of county funds established by § 14-20-102, does not contain language authorizing the Commission to expend funds for the civil representation of a minor. Arkansas Pub. Defender Comm’n v. Burnett, 340 Ark. 233, 12 S.W.3d 191 (2000).

(H) If, during the course of or after an investigation or hearing, the commission reasonably believes that there may have been a violation of criminal law, the commission shall release such information to the appropriate prosecuting attorney.

(2) All proceedings held prior to a determination of probable cause and the filing of formal charges shall be confidential. Any hearing scheduled after the filing of formal charges shall be open to the press and to the public, except that following the completion of the introduction of all evidence, the commission may convene to executive session for the purpose of deliberating its final conclusions and recommendations, provided that, upon completion of the executive session, the final action of the commission shall be announced in an open and public session.

(3) The commission is authorized to request the appropriate prosecuting authorities to seek to obtain immunity from criminal prosecution for a reluctant witness using the procedure outlined in § 16-43-601 et seq.

History. Acts 1989, No. 637, § 2; 1993, No. 1078, § 1.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1993, No. 1078, § 2, provided: "It is hereby found that an Arkansas Supreme Court en banc decision, dated May 14, 1990 has left statutes in conflict with the Commission's Rules of Procedure. In addition, because the commission is an agency of limited jurisdiction, strict confidentiality requirements have prevented the Commission from cooperating with enforcement agencies like the Supreme Court Committee on Professional Conduct and prosecuting attorneys. This legislation is necessary to conform statutes to the commission's Rules of Procedure and to provide an avenue of cooperation between the above mentioned enforcement agencies."

the laws of Arkansas or the United States, or of any other offense that involves moral turpitude. If his or her conviction becomes final, he or she may be removed from office pursuant to § 16-10-410. If his or her conviction is reversed and he or she is cleared of the charge, by order of the court, whether without further trial or after further trial and a finding of not guilty, his or her suspension terminates. CASE NOTES Removal Appropriate.

Removal of the judge from office was proper under subdivision (b)(5) of this section because he willfully violated the Arkansas Code of Judicial Conduct when he, in part, acted inappropriately with defendants under his jurisdiction and when he enforced the payment of civil fees, knowing that the funds would go to a probation-type program that he started. Ark. Judicial Discipline & Disability Comm'n v. Proctor, — Ark. —, — S.W.3d —, 2010 Ark. LEXIS 82 (Jan. 25, 2010).

16-10-604. Procedure — City administration of justice funds. [Effective January 1, 2012.]

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

Effective Dates. Acts 1997, No. 788, § 36: became law without the Governor's signature. Noted Mar. 11, 1997. Effective July 1, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the effectiveness of this act on July 1, 1997 is essential to the operation of the state court system, and that in the event of an extension of the Regular Session, the delay in the effective date of this act beyond July 1, 1997 could work irreparable harm upon the proper administration and provision of essential governmental progress. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1997."

Acts 1997, No. 1341, § 35: became law without the Governor's signature. Noted Apr. 11, 1997. Effective July 1, 1997. Acts 2007, No. 663, § 56: Jan. 1, 2012.

16-10-601. Legislative intent.

(a) It is hereby found by the General Assembly that the current system of funding the state judicial system has created inequity in the level of judicial services available to the citizens of the state. It is further determined that, with the passage and implementation of Acts 1995, No. 1256, a uniform structure for the accounting and distribution of court-generated funds has been established and reliable data on the cost of providing court services and the revenue produced by the court system now exists.

(b) It is, therefore, the intent of this act to begin to phase in the responsibility of the funding of a part of the state trial court system from county government to the state. It is, further, the intent of this act to continue and improve the reporting of information from cities and counties concerning the costs of providing the court system and the revenues produced from court costs, fees, and fines.

(1)(A) Pursuant to §§ 16-10-308(c) and 21-6-403, the Department of Finance and Administration will certify for each city the city's monthly share of uniform court costs and filing fees to be retained by the city.

CASE NOTES

Remedies.

Where defendant sought to establish its right to receive water service from city unencumbered by the previous tenants' unpaid bill, writ of mandamus was not the proper remedy as mandamus may not be used to establish a legal right, and defendant should have sought relief under this section by filing a petition for declaratory relief. Buttolph Trust v. Jarnagan, 302 Ark. 393, 789 S.W.2d 466 (1990).

Affirmance.

Judgment of the lower court is affirmed where majority of judges agree to it though they differ as to reason therefor. Pollock v. C. Hennie Co., 64 Ark. 180, 46 S.W. 185 (1897) (decision under prior law).

When the judges of the court are equally divided on a case, the judgment of the lower court will not be disturbed. Barnard & Leas Mfg. Co. v. Smith, 77 Ark. 590, 92 S.W. 858 (1906) (decision under prior law).

(a) All rules of the Supreme Court and all laws respecting the Supreme Court shall apply to the court sitting in divisions and en banc.

CASE NOTESPreference on Docket.

A cause will not be advanced on the ground of public interest unless it appears that some department of the government will be embarrassed by the delay. Brodie v. Fitzgerald, 55 Ark. 460, 18 S.W. 632 (1892).

16-11-106. Issuance of writs and process.

The Supreme Court shall have power to direct the forms of writs and process which are not contrary to or inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this state.

History. Rev. Stat., ch. 43, § 2; C. & M. Dig., § 2126; Pope's Dig., § 2732; A.S.A. 1947, § 22-212.

CASE NOTESWrits.

A writ of prohibition is issued to prohibit a court from acting, while a writ of certiorari is issued to direct a judge to perform a duty. Dougan v. Gray, 318 Ark. 6, 884 S.W.2d 239 (1994).

A writ of certiorari lies where there is a lack of jurisdiction or there has been an act in excess of jurisdiction that is apparent on the face of the record; it is not to be used to look beyond the face of the record to ascertain the actual merits of a controversy, or to control discretion, or to review a finding of facts, or to reverse a trial court's discretionary authority. Dougan v. Gray, 318 Ark. 6, 884 S.W.2d 239 (1994).

A writ of prohibition is never issued to prevent a trial court from erroneously exercising jurisdiction; it is issued only where the trial court is wholly without jurisdiction. Dougan v. Gray, 318 Ark. 6, 884 S.W.2d 239 (1994).

A writ of prohibition is an extraordinary writ and is granted only when the lower court is wholly without jurisdiction, when there are no disputed facts, when there is no adequate remedy otherwise, and when the writ is clearly warranted. Dougan v. Gray, 318 Ark. 6, 884 S.W.2d 239 (1994).

16-11-108. Disqualification of justice.

No justice of the Supreme Court shall sit on the determination of any case in which he or she is interested in the outcome, is related to any party within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, has been counsel in the case or presided over it in any inferior court, or is otherwise disqualified under the Arkansas Code of Judicial Conduct, unless the parties waive the disqualification, as provided in the code.

Acts 1981, No. 803, § 5: Mar. 28, 1981. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Third General Assembly that courts in Arkansas are faced with a tremendous increase in their workload; that appeals from the trial courts will continue their upward trend in view of the continued record-shattering number of cases filed in these courts; that appeals from these courts which will increase in number will add to the workload of the Supreme Court; that the newly created Court of Appeals was necessary to relieve some of the workload of the Supreme Court, but the Court of Appeals has, also, caused an increased burden on the Reporter of the Supreme Court who reports the decisions of both the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals; and that it is this increase in workload that requires the Reporter of the Supreme Court to have assistance in reporting opinions of both these courts. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

ANALYSIS

Constitutionality.
Amendment of Rules.

Constitutionality.

The legislature's delegation of power to prescribe rules of criminal procedure is not unconstitutional nor outside the enabling act, provided the rule in question is truly procedural. Miller v. State, 262 Ark. 223, 555 S.W.2d 563 (1977).

This section is not an unlawful delegation of legislative authority; it merely recognizes and is harmonious with the court's inherent powers rather than conferring an express power. Jennings v. State, 276 Ark. 217, 633 S.W.2d 373 (1982), cert. denied, Jennings v. Arkansas, 459 U.S. 862, 103 S. Ct. 137, 74 L. Ed. 2d 117 (1982).

Amendment of Rules.

Since the Supreme Court has the inherent power to make the Rules of Criminal Procedure, it follows that it has the inherent power to amend those rules. Jennings v. State, 276 Ark. 217, 633 S.W.2d 373 (1982), cert. denied, Jennings v. Arkansas, 459 U.S. 862, 103 S. Ct. 137, 74 L. Ed. 2d 117 (1982).

CHAPTER 12

COURT OF APPEALS

SUBCHAPTER.

1. GENERAL PROVISIONS.
2. REAPPORTIONMENT OF THE COURT OF APPEALS DISTRICTS.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1991, No. 7, § 7, provided: "The General Assembly recognizes that each judge of the Arkansas Court of Appeals incurs considerable expense in carrying out his or her responsibilities to the people of the State of Arkansas, including expenses for housing; the purchase and maintenance of an automobile; the acquisition, maintenance and equipping of a home-office where the judge can work nights, and other times when it is inappropriate or impractical to work in his or her regular office; for attending bar, civic and social meetings and in otherwise carrying out their responsibilities as judges of the Arkansas Court of Appeals; and that said judges should be entitled to an expense allowance to cover such expenses.

"The funds appropriated by Item (13) of Section 1 herein may be used by each judge of the Arkansas Court of Appeals to cover his expenses. The monthly allowance for fiscal year 1991-92 shall not exceed $550 per month and for fiscal year 1992-93 shall not exceed $550 per month.

"The amount prescribed herein shall be paid monthly upon vouchers submitted by such judges, with each such voucher to state only that it is for expenses incurred by such judge in carrying out his or her responsibilities to the people of the state as described herein.

"Upon receipt of each such voucher, the Auditor of State shall issue a warrant payable to the judge claiming such expense allowance and the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay the same from the funds appropriated for such purpose. The balance of the appropriation for housing and transportation which remains at the close of business of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1992, shall be carried forward into the fiscal year ending June 30, 1993, there to be used for the same purpose."

Acts 1999, No. 889, §§ 1-4, provided: "Section 1. At the November 2000 general election, the electors of each of the six (6) existing Court of Appeals districts created in accordance with Act 208 of 1979 shall elect an additional Court of Appeals judge from each district to begin office on January 1, 2001. The newly-elected judges shall each be elected to serve for four (4) years, or until such later date as the boundaries of the existing Court of Appeals districts are redefined and judges from those districts are elected.

"Section 2. The elected judges of the Court of Appeals now serving shall be designated as position 1 within their respective districts, and the new judges elected under this act shall be designated position 2 within their districts.

"Section 3. Those present judges of the court, who were appointed pursuant to Acts 11 and 15 of 1995 (First Extraordinary Session), shall be entitled to seek election at the November 2000 general election from the district in which they reside.

"Section 4. Except as provided in Section 1, members of the Court of Appeals shall serve eight (8) year terms."

Effective Dates. Acts 1973, No. 231, § 6: Mar. 7, 1973. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and is declared by the General Assembly of Arkansas that doubt and confusion exists as to the proper construction of existing statutes pertaining to the effective date of orders of the Arkansas Public Service Commission and with respect to the proper procedures to follow to obtain judicial review of such orders; that such doubt and confusion could lead to a miscarriage of justice through a technical failure to comply with these statutes as ultimately construed by the courts; and that enactment of this bill will resolve said doubt and confusion. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in force from the date of its approval."

Acts 1979, No. 208, § 9: July 1, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the caseload of the Supreme Court has constantly risen, that the case filings have reached the point that the Court cannot adequately dispose of the appeals, and that the people of this State, through the passage of Amendment 58 to the Constitution of Arkansas, recognized the necessity for a Court of Appeals. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1979."

Acts 1983, No. 410, § 5: Aug. 1, 1983.

Acts 1985, No. 665, § 5: July 1, 1985. Emergency clause provided: "There is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Fifth General Assembly that the Constitution of the State of Arkansas prohibits the appropriation of funds for more than a two (2) year period; that the effectiveness of this Act on July 1, 1985 is essential to the operation of the agency for which the appropriations in the Act are provided, and that in the event of an extension of the Regular Session, the delay in the effective date of this Act beyond July 1, 1985 could work irreparable harm upon the proper administration and providing of essential governmental programs. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1985."

Acts 1985, No. 770, § 4: Apr. 3, 1985. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the practice of requiring circuit court judicial review of Public Service Commission orders works an undue hardship on the people of this State by creating undue delay in the final implementation of just and reasonable rates, and immediate correction of this hardship is necessary in order to preserve the public safety, health, peace, and general welfare of the State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1991, No. 959, § 6: Mar. 29, 1991. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Eighth General Assembly that the caseload of the Court of Appeals has risen so dramatically in recent years that it has created the potential for a severe backlog in the prompt decision of matters before the court. This act is necessary to alleviate this backlog particularly since the present normal term of the Court of Appeals would expire before this act would otherwise become effective. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1993, No. 1085, § 12: §§ 6-11 effective July 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 1323, § 13: became law without Governor's signature. Noted Apr. 19, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act amends Arkansas Code Annotated § 16-12-101 and uncodified sections of Acts 1993, No. 1085; the judicial positions created by § 16-12-101 are to become effective July 1, 1995 and this act would delay the effect of Act 1085 until January 1, 1996; and that in the event of the extension of the regular session the delay in the effective date of this act beyond July 1, 1995 would work irreparable harm on the proper administration of this act. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995 (1st Ex. Sess.), Nos. 11 and 15, § 7: Oct. 23, 1995, and Oct. 24, 1995, respectively. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act amends Uncodified Act 1085 of 1993 and is needed to provide for the appointment of additional Court of Appeals judges from the state of Arkansas since the 80th General Assembly meeting in regular session failed to prescribe new districts and irreparable harm to the proper administration of justice would result if this act is not given immediate effect. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 113, § 6: Feb. 7, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 10 of the First Extraordinary Session of 1995 abolished the Joint Interim Committee on Judiciary and in its place established the House Interim Committee and Senate Interim Committee on Judiciary; that the Arkansas Code 21-9-203 refers to the Joint Interim Committee on Judiciary and should be corrected to refer to the House and Senate Interim Committees on Judiciary; that this act so provides; and that this act should go into effect immediately in order to make the laws compatible as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

SUBCHAPTER 2 — REAPPORTIONMENT OF THE COURT OF APPEALS DISTRICTS

SECTION.

16-12-201. Court of Appeals — Districts.

16-12-202. Court of Appeals — Transition.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2003, No. 1812, § 1, provided: “(a) Under Act 889 of 1999, the Arkansas Court of Appeals Apportionment Commission was created to review the electoral districts for the Court of Appeals and make a recommendation on the changes to be made effective January 1, 2004. The commission has reviewed the current districts and the data from the 2000 census, received input from judges, lawyers, and the general public, and considered the requirements and restrictions of federal and state law. Because of major shifts in population which have occurred since the current districts were created utilizing the 1970 census, a realignment of these districts is necessary.

“(b) The Arkansas Court of Appeals consisted of six (6) judges when it was first created. The number of members grew to nine (9) judges in 1996, and to twelve (12) judges in 1997. However, when the new judgeships were created, no plan was made to stagger the dates of the end of the terms for each of the judges. As a result, the terms of eight (8) of the twelve (12) judges end in 2004. In order to provide for an orderly transition of members and create a reasonable level of stability on the court, it is necessary to adjust the current terms of office.

“(c) It is the purpose of this act to create new electoral districts for the Arkansas Court of Appeals and to establish the dates for electing the judges within each of these districts.”

Acts 2003, No. 1812, § 4, provided: “Each currently serving member of the Court of Appeals shall continue in office until his or her position shall be subject to election, as provided for under this act, regardless of the date otherwise set as the expiration of his or her term, and regardless of any changes in the geographical boundaries in the district from which he or she was elected.”

Publisher's Notes. Because Acts 2003, No. 1812 enacted a subchapter 2, the existing provisions of this chapter have been designated as subchapter 1.

16-12-201. Court of Appeals — Districts.

The State of Arkansas is divided into the following seven (7) districts for the election of judges to the Court of Appeals:

(1) District 1 shall be composed of Clay, Craighead, Crittenden, Cross, Greene, Lonoke, Mississippi, Monroe, Poinsett, Prairie, White, and Woodruff counties;

(a) Circuit courts shall have original jurisdiction of all justiciable matters not otherwise assigned pursuant to the Arkansas Constitution.

(b)(1) Circuit courts shall have appellate jurisdiction of the judgments and final orders of county courts, district courts, city courts, and police courts in all civil actions.

(2) On appeal from such judgments and final orders, the case shall be tried de novo, and the appellate jurisdiction of the circuit court shall extend to errors of fact as well as errors of law.

(c) The circuit courts shall have appellate jurisdiction from the decision of any inferior board, council, or tribunal in the contest of any county, township, or municipal office, and on such appeals the case shall be tried de novo.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

Administrative Determinations.

The legislature has the right, in authorizing a civil service commission, to vest in the circuit court the power to review judicially, either by way of original proceeding or by way of appeal, the action of the commission. Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Matlock, 205 Ark. 286, 168 S.W.2d 424 (1943).

Appellate Jurisdiction.

The circuit court can acquire no jurisdiction by appeal from a court or justice of the peace that was without jurisdiction. Little Rock, Miss. R. & Tex. R.R. v. Manees, 44 Ark. 100 (1884); Bynum v. Patty, 207 Ark. 1084, 184 S.W.2d 254 (1944).

Where a cause is appealed to the circuit court from the county court, the former court obtains jurisdiction to the same extent as if it had been originally brought in that court and should enter final judgment therein and remand the same to the county court with directions to enter that judgment. Batesville v. Ball, 100 Ark. 496, 140 S.W. 712 (1911).

The circuit court has jurisdiction to review on appeal the action of the county court relative to the organization of a road district. Horn v. Baker, 140 Ark. 168, 215 S.W. 600 (1919).

If the county court had jurisdiction to hear a contest over the result of a stock law election, which was not decided, a judgment of that court dismissing a petition attacking the legality of the election was not void on its face, however erroneous it may have been, and a review of it must be by appeal to the circuit court and not by certiorari. Patterson v. Adcock, 157 Ark. 186, 248 S.W. 904 (1923).

The circuit court had jurisdiction to try a case on appeal by a taxpayer from a judgment of the county court allowing a claim against the county and the fact that a warrant had been issued and paid before the case was tried in the circuit court was immaterial. McLain v. Miller County, 180 Ark. 828, 23 S.W.2d 264 (1930), superseded by statute as stated in, Lott v. Circuit Court, 328 Ark. 596, 945 S.W.2d 922 (1997).

Appeals from the county court to the circuit court shall be granted as a matter of right. Watts & Sanders v. Myatt, 216 Ark. 660, 226 S.W.2d 800 (1950).

The chancery court had no jurisdiction to order repayment of a claim allowed by the county judge in paying dues to the Arkansas Association of County Judges; in the absence of fraud, the remedy was by appeal to the circuit court. Arkansas Ass'n of County Judges v. Green, 232 Ark. 438, 338 S.W.2d 672 (1960).

Exclusive Jurisdiction.

The chancery court has exclusive jurisdiction of all cases involving matters of child support; neither the municipal nor circuit court has concurrent jurisdiction with chancery court to enforce an agreement for child support. Boren v. Boren, 318 Ark. 378, 885 S.W.2d 852 (1994).

Circuit court cannot decide a claim of breach of contract or otherwise enforce a child support agreement since under subsection (a) of this section it does not have concurrent jurisdiction. Granquist v. Randolph, 326 Ark. 809, 934 S.W.2d 224 (1996).

Regardless of the context in which a support order is entered, whether divorce, paternity, abandonment, or any other situation, a trial court has the power to enter a child-support order; thus, where a father was held in contempt for failure to pay support, and appealed, even though the trial court did not have jurisdiction to dissolve the marriage because there was no corroboration of residence, the trial court had jurisdiction to enter contempt orders for the father's failure to pay support. Rogers v. Rogers, 80 Ark. App. 430, 97 S.W.3d 429 (2003).

Original Jurisdiction.

The correct method of ascertaining the civil and criminal jurisdiction of the circuit courts is to see what cases or classes of cases are confided by the Constitution exclusively to the jurisdiction of other tribunals, and the great residuum belongs exclusively, or concurrently, to the circuit courts. State v. Devers, 34 Ark. 188 (1879).

Jurisdiction to hear and determine contests of elections for a city office, not being vested elsewhere, is in the circuit court.

Whittaker v. Watson, 68 Ark. 555, 60 S.W. 652 (1901); Doherty v. Cripps, 82 Ark. 529, 102 S.W. 394 (1907).

If the law does not expressly vest jurisdiction to hear an action, it falls within the general jurisdiction of the circuit courts. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Sams, 81 Ark. 39, 98 S.W. 955 (1906); Patterson v. Adcock, 157 Ark. 186, 248 S.W. 904 (1923).

Circuit court has jurisdiction to determine liability of county depository for interest on county funds. Price v. Madison County Bank, 90 Ark. 195, 118 S.W. 706 (1909).

Where the trial court accepted appellant's plea for capital-felony murder on a Sunday in violation of § 16-10-114, the statutory violation did not affect the trial court's jurisdiction over the matter; further, a petition for writ of habeas corpus was not the proper method with which to claim a statutory violation. Noble v. Norris, 368 Ark. 69, 243 S.W.3d 260 (2006).

—Jurisdictional Amount.

The circuit court has jurisdiction of mechanics' liens enforceable against land regardless of the amount. White v. Millbourne, 31 Ark. 486 (1876).

Where no one of several debts sued on exceeds the sum of one hundred dollars, the plaintiff cannot combine them so as to give the circuit court jurisdiction. Mannington v. Young, 35 Ark. 287 (1880).

Circuit courts have jurisdiction in tort action in the nature of a fraud without regard to the amount. Bagley v. Shoppach, 43 Ark. 375 (1884).

In actions for damages to personal property, jurisdiction is determined by the damages asked. Little Rock, Miss. R. & Tex. R.R. v. Manees, 44 Ark. 100 (1884).

Since garnishment is only an attachment of the debt, the jurisdiction of the court over the funds in the hands of the garnishee is not dependent upon the amount of the indebtedness. Moore v. Kelley, 47 Ark. 219, 1 S.W. 97 (1886).

A complaint for breach of contract alleging damages sufficient to give the circuit court jurisdiction is a prima facie showing of jurisdiction, and in the absence of a special plea or charge that the allegation was illusive and fraudulent, the court could correctly assume jurisdiction. Neale v. Smith, 61 Ark. 564, 33 S.W. 1058 (1896).

If the question is raised whether or not the amount claimed was a lien on real estate, the circuit court has jurisdiction without regard to the amount involved. Sanders v. Brown, 65 Ark. 498, 47 S.W. 461 (1898); Naylor v. McNair, 92 Ark. 345, 122 S.W. 662 (1909).

If a demurrer (now abolished) is sustained to one of two paragraphs of complaint and the remaining paragraph demands an amount less than the jurisdictional requirement, the circuit court is without jurisdiction to proceed. Harris-Damon Lumber Co. v. Craddock, 72 Ark. 334, 80 S.W. 228 (1904).

Complaint which alleged that party possessed title to a vehicle valued at $3,900.00 which she obtained under divorce decree and which was being unlawfully detained was a replevin action properly within the jurisdiction of the county circuit court, and, as a consequence, a writ of prohibition did not lie. Bonnell v. Smith, 322 Ark. 141, 908 S.W.2d 74 (1995).

—Misdemeanors.

Circuit courts have concurrent jurisdiction with justices of the peace in misdemeanor cases. Walker v. State, 35 Ark. 386 (1880); McClure v. State, 37 Ark. 426 (1881).

It is not in the power of the legislature, under the provisions of the Constitution, to deprive the circuit courts of all original jurisdiction of misdemeanors. Naylor v. McNair, 92 Ark. 345, 122 S.W. 662 (1909).

—Petitions.

The issue of the sufficiency of a petition for a local option election is one over which chancery court has no jurisdiction. Zaruba v. Phillips, 320 Ark. 199, 895 S.W.2d 544 (1995).

Proceedings on Appeal.

Appeals from final orders and judgments of the county courts are tried de novo. Marion County v. Estes, 79 Ark. 504, 96 S.W. 165 (1906); Thomas v. Burke, 91 Ark. 595, 121 S.W. 1060 (1909); Jones v. Coffin, 96 Ark. 332, 131 S.W. 873 (1910); Thornton v. Allen, 101 Ark. 106, 141 S.W. 499 (1911); Stephens v. School Dist., 104 Ark. 145, 148 S.W. 504 (1912).

Circuit court may permit record to be amended so as to show allowance of appeal by the county court. Drainage Dist. v. Rolfe, 110 Ark. 374, 161 S.W. 1034 (1913).

The circuit court did not abuse its discretion in allowing an appeal where the original papers were not filed before the trial date, inasmuch as certified copies had been filed and there was no showing that appellees were in any manner prejudiced. Woollard v. Circuit Court, 222 Ark. 287, 258 S.W.2d 886 (1953).

—Petitioners for Drainage District.

A petitioner may appeal to the circuit court from an order of the county court refusing a petition for the establishment of a drainage district. Sharum v. Fry, 95 Ark. 385, 129 S.W. 818 (1910).

The petitioners, as well as the remonstrants, have a right to appeal from an order of the county court adverse to their interests and relative to the formation of a drainage district. Collins v. Stewart, 117 Ark. 4, 173 S.W. 824 (1915).

—School Districts.

Where it is sought to annex certain territory of one school district to another, the district whose territory is to be annexed may appeal from a judgment of the county court to the circuit court without its board of directors first appearing in the county court. School Dist. v. Rural Special School Dist., 128 Ark. 383, 194 S.W. 241 (1917).

School district properly appealed from an order approving a bond. Hulbert Special Sch. Dist. v. Cooper, 180 Ark. 29, 20 S.W.2d 322 (1929).

—Taxpayers.

If a county court has proceeded irregularly in the exercise of its constitutional jurisdiction to make a contract for the building of a courthouse, citizens, residents, and taxpayers have a remedy to correct that irregularity by becoming parties to the proceeding and appealing to the circuit court, but a bill in equity will not lie to restrain the making of such a contract for irregularity only. Bowman v. Frith, 73 Ark. 523, 84 S.W. 709 (1905).

One who is a citizen of the county and taxpayer in a drainage district and who is interested in an order of the county court allowing a claim against the district is entitled to appeal therefrom. Huddleston v. Coffman, 90 Ark. 219, 118 S.W. 1010 (1909).

One who is a citizen or resident and a taxpayer has the right to appeal from an order of allowance against the county, whether he intervenes before or after the allowance is made. Van Hook v. McNeil Monument Co., 101 Ark. 246, 142 S.W. 154 (1911).

A citizen and taxpayer may appeal from an order designating a county depository. Casey v. Independence County, 109 Ark. 11, 159 S.W. 24 (1913).

Where the county court made an order establishing a road through certain lands, a citizen and taxpayer owning lands taken by the road may make himself a party to the proceedings and appeal from the order of the court. McMahan v. Ruble, 135 Ark. 83, 204 S.W. 746 (1918).

A taxpayer is authorized to appeal from an order of the county court allowing a claim against the county and confirming a sale of county property in satisfaction thereof without becoming a party to the proceedings. Wright v. LeCroy, 184 Ark. 837, 44 S.W.2d 355 (1931).

The county court, in passing on a claim presented to it, acts in a judicial capacity. Any citizen of any county, city, or town may institute suit in behalf of himself and others interested, to protect the inhabitants thereof against the enforcement of any illegal exactions whatever, and their proper remedy is to appeal to the circuit court. Arkansas Ass'n of County Judges v. Green, 232 Ark. 438, 338 S.W.2d 672 (1960).

ANALYSIS

Continuing Jurisdiction.
Correction of Illegal Levy.

Continuing Jurisdiction.

Upon appeal to the circuit court from order of the county court disallowing claim for damages, the circuit court acquired exclusive jurisdiction of the case and thereafter, it had the jurisdiction to issue such orders as were necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. Dobbins Bros.

v. Anderson, 199 Ark. 635, 135 S.W.2d 325 (1940).

Correction of Illegal Levy.

There is no provision to correct an illegal or erroneous levy by the county court, and, in that case, the taxpayer must look to the superintending control and appellate jurisdiction of the circuit courts over the county courts, and where no remedy by appeal is provided, he is entitled to relief by certiorari or prohibition. Floyd v. Gilbreath, 27 Ark. 675 (1872).

16-13-204. Issuance of writs, orders, or process.

(a) The circuit courts and their judges shall have the power to issue all proper writs, orders, or process in the cases mentioned in §§ 16-13-201(b)(1) and 16-13-203.

(b) The circuit courts and their judges shall have power to issue all writs, orders, and process which may be necessary in the exercise of their jurisdiction, according to the principles and usages of law.

ANALYSIS

Bail.

Bail.

Where probable cause for detention in a felony matter had been found in municipal court, and the case had been bound over to circuit court, then the circuit court had jurisdiction to reduce the bail set by the municipal court. State v. Pulaski County Circuit Court, 326 Ark. 886, 934 S.W.2d 915 (1996). See also State v. Pulaski County Circuit Court, 327 Ark. 287, 938 S.W.2d 815 (1997).

Restraining Order.

On appeal to the circuit court from order of county court disallowing claim for damages, circuit court had jurisdiction to issue restraining order enjoining county judge from allowing claims except for essential county purposes authorized by law, and in the absence of the circuit judge from the county, the chancellor, acting for him, had jurisdiction to issue the order, but the order would be that of the circuit court, having been made by the chancellor for that court, and would not vest jurisdiction in the chancery court or deprive the circuit court of its jurisdiction, and the continuance or dissolution of the order would be a matter within the jurisdiction of the circuit court. Dobbins Bros. v. Anderson, 199 Ark. 635, 135 S.W.2d 325 (1940).

16-13-205. Writs of certiorari — Temporary restraining orders — Enforcement.

- (a) The circuit courts shall have power to issue writs of certiorari to any officer or board of officers, city or town council, or any inferior tribunal of their respective counties in order to correct any erroneous or void proceeding or ordinance and to hear and determine the proceeding or ordinance.
- (b)(1) Application for a writ of certiorari may be made to the court or the judge thereof in vacation on reasonable notice.
- (2) A temporary restraining order may be granted upon the application for a writ of certiorari on bond and good security being given, in a sum to be fixed by the court or the judge in vacation, conditioned that the applicant will perform the judgment of the court.
- (c)(1) Affidavits may be read on such applications, and evidence dehors the record may be introduced by either party on the hearing.
- (2) The record of any such inferior judicial tribunal shall be conclusive as far as the record extends, but the acts of any executive officer or board of that inferior tribunal shall only be prima facie evidence of their regularity and legality.
- (d) The court shall have power in such cases to enforce its judgment by mandamus, prohibition, and other appropriate writs.

Certiorari does not lie to review action of election commissioners. Graves v. Mc-

v. Cockrill, 223 Ark. 817, 269 S.W.2d 300 (1954).

City Councils.

In certiorari proceeding to review resolution of city council declaring vacant the position of commissioner of street improvement district, circuit court acquired jurisdiction of the subject matter when the petition was filed and procedural matters, including issuance of writ, could be waived. Jones v. Leighton, 200 Ark. 1015, 142 S.W.2d 505 (1940).

The action of the city commission in revoking a permit to operate a taxicab is subject to review by certiorari in circuit court, and that court's action is subject to review by certiorari in the supreme court. Veteran's Taxicab Co. v. City of Ft. Smith, 213 Ark. 687, 212 S.W.2d 341 (1948).

Discretion of Court.

Certiorari, being a writ of discretion, may be denied by the court to which application is made where the law does not expressly or by clear implication direct that it shall be issued. McAllister v. McAllister, 200 Ark. 171, 138 S.W.2d 1040 (1940).

Unless trial court abuses its discretion in denying or granting a writ of certiorari, Supreme Court will not reverse that decision. Ricci v. Poole, 253 Ark. 324, 485 S.W.2d 728 (1972).

The writ is not one of right, but is to be granted or denied within the discretion of the court from which it is sought. Gran v. Hale, 294 Ark. 563, 745 S.W.2d 129 (1988).

Evidence.

Where the writ of certiorari is limited as at common law, the court is confined in its review of the evidence to the determination of whether there was substantial evidence to sustain the judgment. Hall v. Bledsoe, 126 Ark. 125, 189 S.W. 1041 (1916).

Records of a legislative body are conclusive and, on application for certiorari, evidence not appearing in the record would be inadmissible. McAllister v. McAllister, 200 Ark. 171, 138 S.W.2d 1040 (1940).

On hearing the writ of certiorari, circuit court does not proceed de novo and try the case as if it had never been heard in the inferior court; the office of the writ is to review errors of law, one of which may be the legal sufficiency of the evidence.

McCain v. Collins, 204 Ark. 521, 164 S.W.2d 448 (1942).

On certiorari, circuit court may hear evidence dehors the record in order to ascertain what evidence was heard by the inferior tribunal and to determine whether the evidence was legally sufficient to sustain the judgment of that tribunal. McCain v. Collins, 204 Ark. 521, 164 S.W.2d 448 (1942).

Neither circuit court nor Supreme Court had authority on writ of certiorari to pass on the question of the preponderance of the evidence supporting action of agency. McCain v. Collins, 204 Ark. 521, 164 S.W.2d 448 (1942).

Hearing.

A hearing is contemplated on a petition for certiorari under this section. Carrier v. Beck, 227 Ark. 92, 296 S.W.2d 446 (1956).

Inferior Tribunals.

The errors of a mayor's court, having jurisdiction of a case of assault and battery, in overruling a plea of former conviction and refusing to dismiss for want of a bond for costs, are not jurisdictional and cannot be corrected on certiorari. Salem v. Colley, 70 Ark. 71, 66 S.W. 195 (1901).

Judgment in action of writ of certiorari, refusing to quash a judgment of a justice of the peace, was proper where petition merely alleged that petitioner had a meritorious defense but did not show the facts constituting the defense. Overton v. Alston, 199 Ark. 96, 132 S.W.2d 834 (1939).

A wife's petition for certiorari to quash a divorce decree would be denied where the circumstances and conditions which arose since the decree would render it inequitable and unjust to an innocent third party to grant the writ, and because the petition did not allege fraud or inequitable conduct in obtaining the decree or a defense to the divorce action. Whaley v. Whaley, 213 Ark. 232, 209 S.W.2d 871 (1948).

Other Remedy.

The writ of certiorari should not be issued in any case where there is, or has been, a right to appeal, unless the opportunity for appealing has been lost without fault of the petitioner. Payne v. McCabe, 37 Ark. 318 (1881). See Vance v. Gaylor, 25 Ark. 32 (1867); Wyatt & Hensley v. Burr, 25 Ark. 476 (1869); Smith v. Parker, 25 Ark. 518 (1869); Vance v. Little Rock, 30

Ark. 435 (1875); Burke v. Coolidge, 35 Ark. 180 (1879); Burgett v. Apperson, 52 Ark. 213, 12 S.W. 559 (1889).

Judgment will not be quashed if there was other adequate remedy. Aven v. Wilson, 61 Ark. 287, 32 S.W. 1074 (1895); Gates v. Hayes, 69 Ark. 518, 64 S.W. 271 (1901).

Certiorari will not lie at the instance of the creditors of a decedent's estate to set aside the classification of a claim allowed by the probate court in favor of another creditor as the appeal by the personal representative provided in such case furnishes an adequate remedy. Merchants & Planters Bank v. Fitzgerald, 61 Ark. 605, 33 S.W. 1064 (1896).

The Department of Human Services (DHS) was not entitled to a writ of certiorari ordering the Claims Commission to dismiss a claim pending before it since the pending claim was within the jurisdiction of the Claims Commission and the DHS had an adequate remedy of appealing the Claims Commission's ruling to the General Assembly. Hanley v. Arkansas State Claims Comm'n, 333 Ark. 159, 970 S.W.2d 198 (1998).

Record.

On certiorari, the record is conclusive as far as it extends. Countz v. Markling, 30 Ark. 17 (1875).

Clerk should return transcript of record with his response. Phillips v. Desha, 58 Ark. 250, 24 S.W. 249 (1893).

Though equalization board had finally adjourned when assessment of taxpayer's mineral rights were made, taxpayer was not without right of redress since he had the right, by certiorari from the circuit court directed to the county clerk, to have the record brought up for review and correction. Stout Lumber Co. v. Parker, 197 Ark. 65, 122 S.W.2d 180 (1938).

Scope of Writ.

This section does not enlarge the writ of certiorari into an appeal or writ of error for the correction of mere errors in judicial proceedings; the practice is still to affirm or quash the judgment on the trial of the certiorari. St. Louis, I.M. & S. Ry. v. Barnes, 35 Ark. 95 (1879); North Little Rock Transp. Co. v. Sangster, 210 Ark. 294, 195 S.W.2d 549 (1946).

The writ of certiorari cannot be used by the circuit courts for the correction of errors of inferior courts as upon appeal; but where the inferior judgment shows upon its face that the court had no jurisdiction of the subject matter, or the person of the defendant, it may be quashed upon certiorari. State ex rel. Izard County v. Hinkle, 37 Ark. 532 (1881); Street v. Stuart, 38 Ark. 159 (1881); Baskins v. Wylds, 39 Ark. 347 (1882); Haynes v. Semmes, 39 Ark. 399 (1882); Pettigrew v. Washington County, 43 Ark. 33 (1884); Burgett v. Apperson, 52 Ark. 213, 12 S.W. 559 (1889).

Certiorari cannot be converted into injunction suit. Moore v. Turner, 43 Ark. 243 (1884).

A writ of certiorari may be quashed after the return when it is made to appear that it will not serve the ends of justice; but it will not be quashed where the return shows that the bill of exceptions (now abolished) as certified does not conform to that which was originally filed. Martin v. St. Louis, I.M. & S. Ry., 53 Ark. 250, 13 S.W. 765 (1890).

A judgment void upon its face will be quashed on certiorari. Chevrolet Motor Co. v. Landers Chevrolet Co., 183 Ark. 669, 37 S.W.2d 873 (1931).

The scope of a writ of certiorari at common law is not enlarged by this section. McAllister v. McAllister, 200 Ark. 171, 138 S.W.2d 1040 (1940).

Writ of certiorari can be used by the circuit court in the exercise of its appellate power and superintending control over inferior courts, where the tribunal to which it is issued has exceeded its jurisdiction, where party applying for it had the right of appeal but lost it through no fault of his own, and where circuit court has superintending control over a tribunal which has proceeded illegally and no other mode has been provided for directly reviewing its proceedings; but it cannot be used as a substitute for an appeal or writ of error, for the correction of errors or irregularities in proceedings of inferior courts. McCain v. Collins, 204 Ark. 521, 164 S.W.2d 448 (1942).

Neither mandamus, certiorari, nor prohibition may be used as a substitute for appeal. Gran v. Hale, 294 Ark. 563, 745 S.W.2d 129 (1988).

Continuance.

Continuance.

Motion of defendant for a continuance on the ground that court was not properly in session, since court was in session in another district in the same county, was properly overruled, since evidence failed to show that the court was in session in another district in the same county, and even if the court was in session in another district, that did not interfere with the holding of session of any other court. McGaha v. State, 216 Ark. 165, 224 S.W.2d 534 (1949).

Discretion of Court.

When the regular term of court has been convened, the judge at his discretion may adjourn and convene court as he "may deem necessary." Bradley v. State, 213 Ark. 927, 213 S.W.2d 901 (1948).

16-13-208. Adjournments — Recess.

There shall be no adjournments of circuit courts. However, courts shall be deemed in recess while not engaged in the transaction of business.

16-13-209. Notice of proceedings.

Where the defendant or respondent has answered or otherwise pleaded and if the time has not been set by the court, all interested parties, together with their attorneys, shall receive notice from the clerk of the court of any proceeding affecting their rights and shall be given time to prepare to meet the proceeding.  Sufficiency.

In General.

This section does not require that the court clerk give notice to all interested parties in all cases, but only in those cases where the time has not been fixed by the court and in those cases where parties are not required by law to take notice. Harris v. State, 6 Ark. App. 89, 638 S.W.2d 698 (1982).

Due Process.

While a circuit court is authorized to affirm a judgment of a lower court if the appellant fails to appear when his case has been scheduled for trial, due process dictates that appellant be afforded proper notice and an opportunity to be heard in a proceeding involving the deprivation of life, liberty or property; that interested parties as well as their attorneys receive notice from the clerk of the court of proceedings scheduled; and that time shall be afforded counsel to prepare for trial. Rawls v. State, 266 Ark. 919, 587 S.W.2d 602 (Ct. App. 1979).

Where a bonding company failed to show that it was prejudiced by the lack of notice of an original bond forfeiture order prior to the entry of the nunc pro tunc order correcting the name of the bonding company that was subject to the same, it could not prove that its due process rights were violated; because the nunc pro tunc judgment was correct, reflecting an accurate correction of the clerical error in the earlier order, nothing would be gained by setting aside the order and immediately reentering it. Holt Bonding Co. v. State, 353 Ark. 136, 114 S.W.3d 179 (2003).

Failure to Give Notice.

Circuit court has no power to render a default judgment, without notice, in a county other than that in which the action is pending. Howell v. Van Houten, 227 Ark. 84, 296 S.W.2d 428 (1956).

Record.

If court was not in session on a certain day, authority to hear witnesses and make their testimony a part of the record in the original proceeding was lacking unless this section had been complied with or no notice had been waived. Vaccinol Prods. Corp. v. State, 201 Ark. 1066, 148 S.W.2d 1069 (1941) (decision under prior law).

Sufficiency.

Notice held to be insufficient. Renfro v. City of Conway, 260 Ark. 852, 545 S.W.2d 69 (1977); Davis v. University of Ark. Medical Ctr. & Collection Serv., Inc., 262 Ark. 587, 559 S.W.2d 159 (1977); Rawls v. State, 266 Ark. 919, 587 S.W.2d 602 (Ct. App. 1979); Prine v. State, 267 Ark. 304, 590 S.W.2d 25 (1979).

Notice held sufficient. Harris v. State, 6 Ark. App. 89, 638 S.W.2d 698 (1982).

Since defense attorney had two days notice before the trial date and knew that the case would be reset for a day within ten days or two weeks and there was no reason shown for the attorney's stated inability to contact defendant in Iowa so that he could be present for trial, statutory and due process requirements were met. Whitmire v. State, 50 Ark. App. 34, 901 S.W.2d 20 (1995).

16-13-210. Circuit judge may hear and adjudicate causes pending in the circuit.

(a)(1) Any circuit judge of this state, at any time while mentally and physically competent and physically present in the geographical area of the judicial circuit which he or she serves as judge, may hear, adjudicate, or render any appropriate order with respect to any cause or matter pending in any circuit court over which he or she presides, subject to such notice of the time, place, and nature of the hearing being given as may be required by law or by rule or order of the court.

(2) However, no contested case may be tried outside the county of the venue of the case, except upon the agreement of the parties interested.

(b) A circuit judge assigned to a cause or matter, either by regular docket assignment or by Supreme Court order, may render or sign orders in that cause or matter in a geographical location other than the judicial circuit in which the cause or matter is pending.

(c) A retired circuit judge, chancellor, or circuit-chancery judge assigned to a cause or matter by Supreme Court order may render or sign orders in that cause or matter in a geographical location other than the judicial circuit in which the cause or matter is pending.

History. Acts 1961, No. 81, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 22-313; Acts 2003, No. 1000, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all sitting circuit, chancery, and circuit chancery judges at the time the amendment took effect were to continue in office as circuit judges and that circuit courts were to have jurisdiction of all matters previously dealt with by circuit, chancery, and probate courts, including juvenile matters.

Charge and Sentence in Different Districts.

Dismissal of Action.

In General.

Section 16-88-105, this section, and Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 13 [repealed], provide that a circuit judge may act in a criminal case only when he is within the geographical area of the judicial district in which the charge is filed; it has been so for over 150 years. Waddle v. Sargent, 313 Ark. 539, 855 S.W.2d 919 (1993).

A circuit judge has the authority to preside over proceedings in any courtroom, in any county, within the judicial district for which that judge was elected. Davis v. Reed, 316 Ark. 575, 873 S.W.2d 524 (1994).

The constitution and applicable statutes provide that a circuit judge may act in a criminal case only when he is within

Charge and Sentence in Different Districts.

It was not error to charge the defendant with having committed a crime in one district in a county in the circuit, and have him sentenced by the circuit judge in another. Renfro v. State, 264 Ark. 601, 573 S.W.2d 53 (1978).

Dismissal of Action.

Court granted physician's petition for a writ of certiorari in administratrix's third medical negligence and wrongful death action as the trial judge's reversal of his order dismissing the administratrix's second complaint, which was assigned to another judge, had no bearing on whether the trial judge could make a ruling on the motion to dismiss the third complaint. Jordan v. Circuit Court, 366 Ark. 326, 235 S.W.3d 487 (2006).

16-13-211. Proceedings during vacation of court or in chambers.

(a) The circuit judges of the circuit courts constituting the judicial districts over which they have jurisdiction and preside are empowered and authorized to deliver opinions and make and sign judgments in cases taken under advisement and submitted to that court at a term of court, or by consent and agreement of interested parties in vacation, either in chambers or at the regular place of holding court in the respective counties constituting the judicial district.

(b) By consent of interested parties and counsel, where a jury is waived and a cause is submitted for trial before the court sitting as a jury, the trial and hearing may be held in chambers in the county of the residence of the regular presiding circuit judge.

(c) Consent judgments, ex parte proceedings, and matters not requiring the services of a jury may be made and hearings had in chambers in the county of the residence of the regular presiding circuit judge.

(d) Any opinion, judgment, or order rendered and made under and pursuant to this section shall be signed by the presiding circuit judge. This opinion, judgment, or order shall become effective when entered of record in the county where the action or matter originated or was filed.

(e) The purpose of this section is to better facilitate the disposition of court matters where the services of a jury are not required and to expedite, by consent of interested parties and counsel, legal matters and actions which otherwise would be delayed until the regular convening of a term of court and to save the costs of such regular convening.

Applicability.

Consent of Interested Parties.

Applicability.

This section applies only to actions of the court in vacation and would not require that the trial judge sign the judgment sentencing a criminal defendant. Shipman v. State, 261 Ark. 559, 550 S.W.2d 424 (1977).

Consent of Interested Parties.

Persons who were not parties to action, did not intervene therein, did not employ attorney to act for them, and did not even communicate their desires to parties or their attorneys, could not have judgment in action set aside on ground that parties to action committed fraud on court by agreeing to try action in chambers in county of judge's residence. Morrell v. Hill, 218 Ark. 552, 237 S.W.2d 467 (1951).

16-13-214. Disqualification of judges.

No judge of the circuit court shall sit on the determination of any case in which he or she is interested in the outcome, is related to any party within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, has been of counsel in the case or presided over it in any inferior court, or is otherwise disqualified under the Arkansas Code of Judicial Conduct, unless the parties waive the disqualification as provided therein.

ANALYSIS

Purpose.

Continuance.

Grounds.

—Acting as Counsel.

—Bias or Prejudice.

—Interest.

—Relationship.

Presumption.

Purpose.

This section and § 16-13-101 tend to carry out the intention of Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed]. Mears v. Hall, 263 Ark. 827, 569 S.W.2d 91 (1978).

Continuance.

It is no ground of error that a judge who was incompetent to sit in a cause took jurisdiction of it so far as to grant a continuance, for it would have been continued by operation of law, without action of the judge, he being incompetent to try it. Stone v. Robinson, 9 Ark. (4 English) 469 (1849).

Grounds.

A trial judge is not disqualified in a criminal case because the defendant claims to have entered a plea of guilty upon an agreement with the judge and prosecuting attorney that certain other pending indictments would be dismissed where the agreement was denied by the judge. Hudspeth v. State, 188 Ark. 323, 67 S.W.2d 191 (1933), cert. denied, Hudspeth v. Arkansas, 296 U.S. 642, 56 S. Ct. 178, 80 L. Ed. 456 (1935).

—Acting as Counsel.

The objection that a judge was disqualified by reason of having appeared for the plaintiffs in a previous suit against the defendants upon the same cause of action which had been dismissed for want of prosecution will be deemed waived where the case was allowed to proceed to judgment without calling the judge's attention to his disqualification. Washington Fire Ins. Co. v. Hogan, 139 Ark. 130, 213 S.W. 7 (1919).

—Bias or Prejudice.

Prejudice is not ground for disqualifying judge. Jones v. State, 61 Ark. 88, 32 S.W. 81 (1895).

Evidence did not establish bias or prejudice warranting disqualification of judge. Norman v. State, 236 Ark. 476, 366 S.W.2d 891 (1963), cert. denied, Norman v. Arkansas, 375 U.S. 933, 84 S. Ct. 337, 11 L. Ed. 2d 265 (1963); Van Hook v. Van Hook, 270 Ark. 27, 603 S.W.2d 434 (1980); Matthews v. Rodgers, 279 Ark. 328, 651 S.W.2d 453 (1983); Welch v. State, 283 Ark. 281, 675 S.W.2d 641 (1984).

The fact that a judge may have, or may develop during the trial, an opinion, a bias or a prejudice does not make the trial judge so biased and prejudicial as to require his disqualification in further proceedings. Matthews v. Rodgers, 279 Ark. 328, 651 S.W.2d 453 (1983).

Whether a judge has become biased to the point that he should disqualify himself is a matter to be confined to the conscience of the judge; the reason is that bias is a subjective matter peculiarly within the knowledge of the trial judge. Thus, absent some objective demonstration of prejudice, it is a communication of bias which will cause an appellate court to reverse a trial judge's decision on disqualification. Matthews v. Rodgers, 279 Ark. 328, 651 S.W.2d 453 (1983).

—Interest.

The interest which disqualifies a judge is not the kind of interest which one feels in public proceedings or public measures; it must be a pecuniary or property interest or one affecting his individual rights; and the liability of pecuniary gain or relief must occur upon the event of the suit and not result remotely in the future from the general operation of laws and government upon the status fixed by the decision. Osborne v. Board of Imp., 94 Ark. 563, 128 S.W. 357 (1910).

A judge who was the victim of alleged criminal libel by publisher was disqualified from presiding as judge in proceedings under several indictments returned against the publisher since he himself was a party within the necessary degree as used in this section and Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed]. Copeland v. Huff, 222 Ark. 420, 261 S.W.2d 2 (1953).

The exchange of circuits was a proceeding in which the self-disqualified trial judge should not have exercised the discretionary powers of his office since he was personally affected. State v. George, 250 Ark. 968, 470 S.W.2d 593 (1971).

Judge passing on compromise settlement between injured employee and tortfeasors in which insurance carrier had subrogation rights did not have a disqualifying interest in the case because he had pending an action for injury to his own hand involving the same liability carrier. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co. v. Billingsley, 256 Ark. 947, 511 S.W.2d 476 (1974).

The "interest" which is disqualifying under this section, § 16-13-101, and Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed], is a personal proprietary or pecuniary interest or one affecting the individual rights of the judge, and the liability, gain or relief to the judge must turn on the outcome of the suit. Mears v. Hall, 263 Ark. 827, 569 S.W.2d 91 (1978).

Motion for recusal was properly denied where the trial judge had no interest in underlying action beyond that of general interest which any other taxpayer or property owner had, and thus, he did not have a personal or pecuniary interest that justified disqualification. Worth v. Benton County Circuit Court, 351 Ark. 149, 89 S.W.3d 891 (2002).

—Relationship.

The husband of the aunt is related to the husband of her niece within the fourth degree of affinity. Kelly v. Neely, 12 Ark. 657 (1852).

A circuit judge is not disqualified to preside where he is related by affinity, within the constitutional degrees, to one of the parties in a cause who is merely a trustee and has no interest in the determination of the cause. Fowler v. Byers, 16 Ark. (3 Barber) 196 (1855).

An application to the Supreme Court, in the first instance, for a writ of certiorari to a justice of the peace because the circuit judge is of kin to the petitioner, and disqualified, should show how he was related. Ex parte Allston, 17 Ark. (4 Barber) 580 (1856).

A judge is disqualified when related within prohibited degree to attorney in the case who has a contingent interest in that his fee is dependent upon the determination of the cause. Johnson v. State, 87 Ark. 45, 112 S.W. 143 (1908).

Notwithstanding the conclusion that the trial judge acted in utmost good faith, a person convicted of murder was entitled to a new trial when he was in ignorance, at the time of trial, of the fact that the judge's wife was a cousin of the victim. Byler v. State, 210 Ark. 790, 197 S.W.2d 748 (1946).

Murder defendant who pleaded guilty after the death penalty was waived was not prejudiced by a father-in-law/son-in-law relationship between the judge and one of defendant's court-appointed counsel. Fuller v. State, 256 Ark. 998, 511 S.W.2d 474 (1974).

When the relationship is within the proscribed limits, neither the frequency of contact nor the closeness of the individuals bears on the result. Morton v. Benton Publishing Co., 291 Ark. 620, 727 S.W.2d 824 (1987).

Where one spouse's relationship with a judge comes within the prohibition of Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed], this section, and §§ 16-13-312 [repealed], 16-14-103 [repealed], 16-15-111, or 16-19-206 [repealed], the other spouse shares the same degree of relationship by affinity to the judge. Morton v. Benton Publishing Co., 291 Ark. 620, 727 S.W.2d 824 (1987).

Presumption.

Where the record fails to show that the court acted on a suggestion of disqualification, it will be presumed that he found that he was not disqualified. Davis v. Atkinson, 75 Ark. 300, 87 S.W. 432 (1905).

(b) Upon certifying to the Governor his or her discharge from the service, the judge shall be entitled to resume his or her office and thereafter to receive and enjoy the salary and emoluments until a regular judge shall be elected and qualified.

CASE NOTES

Judicial Authority.

The letter opinion of the judge's law clerk informing the defendant that his petition for post-conviction relief was denied was invalid because a trial judge may not delegate his judicial authority to a law clerk, and the General Assembly has not attempted to give law clerks the power to decide cases. Brown v. State, 290 Ark. 289, 718 S.W.2d 937 (1986).

Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the juvenile division of chancery court is to be created to replace the juvenile court system provided for in Act 14 of 1987 and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to insure that there is an orderly and efficient administration of the juvenile justice system of this state. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1999."

CASE NOTES

Salary.

Where circuit and chancery judge issued an order setting salaries of the judicial district's probation officer and intake officer at $18,000.00 per year, and petitioners, members of the county quorum court, voted to pay county's share of the salary, but at the rate of only $15,000.00 per year and judge ordered petitioners to show cause why they should not be held in contempt for not complying with his order, petitioners had not failed to fund the court, there was no showing that level of funding was so low that the court could not effectively operate, the inherent authority doctrine did not apply, and court had no authority to hold petitioners in contempt for not complying with its order. *Abbott v. CASE NOTES

Child Custody.
Harmless Error.
Notice of Appeal.
Silence Not Waiver.

Child Custody.

The clear and unambiguous language of the statute does not allow anything less than a complete record of the proceedings to be made and this requirement cannot be waived; thus, a record must be made of in-camera interviews in matters of child custody. Mattocks v. Mattocks, 66 Ark. App. 77, 986 S.W.2d 890 (1999).

Harmless Error.

Although the trial court's failure to make a verbatim record of the in-chambers conference was error, it was not reversible error since the record was settled by the trial court. Smith v. State, 324 Ark. 74, 918 S.W.2d 714 (1996).

Notice of Appeal.

Failure to lodge the record was due to the dilatory actions of the husband's attorney, because while the notice of appeal stated that the attorney had ordered the transcript, it was apparent that she failed to provide the court reporter with a copy of the notice of appeal or otherwise inform court reporter that she needed the transcript until just before the original deadline to lodge the record. Eggstein v. Eggstein, 2009 Ark. 262, — S.W.3d — (2009).

Silence Not Waiver.

Because the state and the defense did not waive their right to a verbatim record, the trial court's failure to make a verbatim record of the in-chambers conferences on the defendant's directed-verdict motion was error; although the state voiced no objection to the trial court's handling of the directed-verdict motion in this manner, the Supreme Court of Arkansas would not construe the state's silence on the issue at trial as implying a waiver of this requirement and warned that in the future the record requirement would be strictly construed and enforced. Robinson v. State, 353 Ark. 372, 108 S.W.3d 622 (2003).

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

16-13-701. Scope. [Effective until January 1, 2012.]

(b) For purposes of this subchapter, the term “fine” or “fines” means all monetary penalties imposed by the courts of this state, which include fines, court costs, restitution, probation fees, and public service work supervisory fees.

16-13-702. Immediate payment.

(a)(1) When a court has imposed a fine, as described in § 16-13-701, the imposition of such a fine constitutes an order to pay the full amount of the fine in accordance with this subchapter.

(2) Following imposition of the fine, the court shall inform the defendant that full payment of the fine is due immediately and shall inquire of the defendant what arrangements he or she has made to comply with the court's order to pay the fine.

(3) Without utilizing the provisions of § 16-13-704, the court may allow the defendant a period of time, not to extend beyond the time of the close of the clerk's office on the following day, within which to return to the court and tender payment of the fine.

(4)(A)(i) If the defendant fails to appear as directed, the court shall issue an order of arrest.

(ii) The arrest order shall be carried out by the sheriff.

(B) The court may also, upon the defendant's failure to appear, utilize any of the enforcement mechanisms authorized by this subchapter.

(5)(A) If the defendant claims an inability to pay the fine, the court shall inquire into the defendant's ability to pay and shall make a determination of the defendant's financial ability to pay the fine.

(B) If the court finds that the defendant has the financial ability to make immediate payment of the fine in full, the court shall order him or her to pay the fine.

(C) Failure or refusal to pay as ordered by the court shall subject the defendant to imprisonment, as provided in § 16-13-703.

(b)(1) When a corporation is sentenced to pay a fine or costs, it is the duty of the person authorized to make disbursement from the assets of the corporation to pay the fine or costs.

(3) Failure to comply with the duties imposed by this subsection shall render the person or directors subject to imprisonment under § 16-13-703.

CASE NOTES

Right to Appeal.

City could not rely on the application of this section to claim that defendants' appeal had to be dismissed for the failure of defendants to pay an appeal bond because, even though the court had the right to order installment payments, nothing in this section authorizes a district court to demand payment of the fine as a prerequisite for taking an appeal to circuit court. Velek v. State, 364 Ark. 531, 222 S.W.3d 182 (2006).

16-13-703. Imprisonment.

(a) When a defendant sentenced to pay a fine defaults in the payment thereof, or of any installment, the court, upon its own motion or that of the prosecuting attorney, may require him or her to show cause why he or she should not be imprisoned for nonpayment.

(b) The court may issue a warrant of arrest or summons for his or her appearance.

(c)(1) Unless the defendant shows that his or her default was not attributable to a purposeful refusal to obey the sentence of the court or to a failure on his or her part to make a good-faith effort to obtain the funds required for payment, the court may order the defendant imprisoned in the county jail or other authorized institution designated by the court until the fine or specified part thereof is paid.

(2)(A) The period of imprisonment shall not exceed one (1) day for each forty dollars ($40.00) of the fine, thirty (30) days if the fine was imposed upon conviction of a misdemeanor, or one (1) year if the fine was imposed upon conviction of a felony, whichever is the shorter period.

(B) The total amount of fines owed shall not automatically be reduced by the period of imprisonment, but the court may credit forty dollars ($40.00) for each day of imprisonment against the total fine the defendant has been sentenced to pay.

(3) The provisions of this subsection shall be an addition to the revocation options contained in § 5-4-301 et seq.

(d) If the court determines that the default in payment of the fine is not attributable to the causes specified in subsection (c) of this section, the court may enter an order allowing the defendant additional time for payment, reducing the amount of each installment, or revoking the fine or the unpaid portion thereof in whole or in part.

ANALYSIS

Improper Judicial Conduct.
Right to Appeal.

Improper Judicial Conduct.

Finding that the judge be removed from office was appropriate, in part because he had contact with probationers when he collected money and such conduct did not pass the test for appearance of impropriety nor did this section cure the appearance of impropriety. A circuit court was not authorized to collect the fine itself and it was clear that the judge's collection of money from defendants in open court would create in reasonable minds a perception that his ability to carry out his judicial responsibilities with integrity, impartiality, and competence was impaired. Ark. Judicial Discipline & Disability Comm'n v. Proctor, — Ark. —, — S.W.3d —, 2010 Ark. LEXIS 82 (Jan. 25, 2010).

Right to Appeal.

City could not rely on the application of this section to claim that defendants' appeal had to be dismissed for the failure of defendants to pay an appeal bond because, even though this section authorizes imprisonment for failure to pay a fine, nothing in it authorizes a district court to demand payment of the fine as a prerequisite for taking an appeal to circuit court. Velek v. State, 364 Ark. 531, 222 S.W.3d 182 (2006).

16-13-704. Installment payments. [Effective until January 1, 2012.]

(a)(1) If the court concludes that the defendant has the ability to pay the fine but that requiring the defendant to make immediate payment in full would cause a severe and undue hardship for the defendant and the defendant's dependents, the court may authorize payment of the fine by means of installment payments in accordance with this subchapter.

(2)(A) When a court authorizes payment of a fine by means of installment payments, it shall issue, without a separate disclosure hearing, an order that the fine be paid in full by a date certain and that in default of payment, the defendant must appear in court to explain the failure to pay.

(B) In fixing the date of payment, the court shall issue an order that will complete payment of the fine as promptly as possible without creating a severe and undue hardship for the defendant and the defendant's dependents.

(b)(1)(A) In addition to the fine and any other assessments authorized by this subchapter, an installment fee of five dollars ($5.00) per month shall be assessed on the first day of each month on each person who is authorized to pay a fine on an installment basis.

(B) This fee shall be collected in full each month in which a defendant makes an installment payment.

(C) This fee shall accrue each month that a defendant does not make an installment payment and the fine has not been paid in full.

(2)(A)(i) One-half (½) of the installment fee collected in circuit court shall be remitted by the tenth day of each month to the Administration of Justice Funds Section of the Office of Administrative Services of the Department of Finance and Administration, on a form provided by that office, for deposit in the Judicial Fine Collection Enhancement Fund, established by § 16-13-712.

(ii) The other half of the installment fee shall be remitted by the tenth day of each month to the county treasurer to be deposited into a fund entitled the circuit court automation fund to be used solely for circuit court-related technology.

(B)(i) Expenditures from the circuit court automation fund shall be approved by the administrative circuit judge of each judicial circuit and shall be authorized and paid under the state laws governing the appropriation and payment of county expenditures. Expenditures may be made for indirect expenses related to implementation of new court-related technology, including overtime pay, personnel or travel expenses, and technology-related supplies.

(ii) Funds in each county in a judicial circuit may be pooled for expenditure pursuant to a circuitwide technology plan approved by the administrative circuit judge.

(3)(A) One-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the installment fee collected in district court or city court shall be remitted by the tenth day of each month to the Administration of Justice Funds Section on a form provided by that office, for deposit into the Judicial Fine Collection Enhancement Fund established by § 16-13-712.

(B)(i) The other half of the installment fee collected in district court shall be remitted by the tenth day of each month to the city treasurer of the city in which the district court is located to be deposited into a fund entitled the district court automation fund to be used solely for district court-related technology.

(C) In a district court that is funded solely by the county, the other half of this fee shall be remitted by the tenth day of each month to the county treasurer of the county in which the district court is located to be deposited into the district court automation fund to be used solely for district court-related technology.

(D)(i) Expenditures from the district court automation fund shall be approved by a district judge and shall be authorized and paid, under state laws governing the appropriation and payment of county or municipal expenditures, by the governing body or, if applicable, governing bodies that contribute to the expenses of a district court.

(ii) Expenditures may be made for indirect expenses related to implementation of new court-related technology, including overtime pay, personnel or travel expenses, and technology-related supplies.

(E)(i) Expenditures from the city court automation fund shall be approved by the city court judge and shall be authorized and paid under state laws governing the appropriation and payment of municipal expenditures by the governing body of the city or town in which the city court is located.

(ii) Expenditures may be made for indirect expenses related to implementation of new court-related technology, including overtime pay, personnel or travel expenses, and technology-related supplies.

(c) A defendant who has been authorized by the court to pay a fine by installments shall be considered to have irrevocably appointed the clerk of the court as his or her agent upon whom all papers affecting his or her liability may be served, and the clerk shall forthwith notify the defendant thereof by ordinary mail at his or her last known address.

(d) “Ability to pay” means that the resources of the defendant, including all available income and resources, are sufficient to pay the fine and provide the defendant and his or her dependents with a reasonable subsistence compatible with health and decency.

Emergency clause provided: "The General Assembly of the State of Arkansas hereby finds and determines that the matters affected by this Act have a direct relation to the smooth, efficient and timely administration of justice in the counties affected, and that in order for the judges of the courts so affected to properly schedule their case loads for the terms of Court established by this Act, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby found and declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Emergency clauses provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the caseload in the counties and districts of the Second Judicial Circuit has greatly increased in recent years; that there exists a disparity in the number of cases pending among the counties of the circuit; that the present statutory terms of circuit court are no longer adequate to effectively handle the caseload existing in the various counties and districts within the circuit; and that the circuit judges of the circuit should be given more discretion in scheduling court among the counties where the caseload is heaviest and thereby alleviate case backlog and provide a more efficient administration of justice. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect retroactive to January 1, 1981."

Acts 1989, No. 949, § 8: Mar. 27, 1989. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the separation of the courts of law and equity combined with the amount of travel required of judges in the Second Judicial District creates an inefficient system of justice which can be greatly improved and streamlined by converting the circuit judges of the Second Judicial District into circuit-chancery judges with jurisdiction in law, equity, and probate. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 311, § 5: Feb. 28, 1997. and the ability to freely schedule and exchange cases among the judges will alleviate backlogs. Therefore an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. CASE NOTES

Judicial Authority.

The letter opinion of the judge's law clerk informing the defendant that his petition for post-conviction relief was denied was invalid because a trial judge may not delegate his judicial authority to a law clerk, and the General Assembly has not attempted to give law clerks the power to decide cases. Brown v. State, 290 Ark. 289, 718 S.W.2d 937 (1986).

ANALYSIS

County Contractor Bond Loan.
Improvements.

County Contractor Bond Loan.

Judge who guaranteed a bond loan for a county contractor had an "interest" in a county contract in violation of subsection (a) of this section and was properly removed from office pursuant to subsection

(b) of this section. Moncrief v. State, 325 Ark. 173, 925 S.W.2d 776 (1996).

Improvements.

Interest of a county judge in an improvement to which the county contributes with its labor and machinery is a violation of this section just as much as if the county had paid out cash. McGhee v. Glenn, 244 Ark. 1000, 428 S.W.2d 258 (1968).

16-15-110. Judge not to be interested party in county contracts, projects, buildings, etc.

ANALYSIS

Jury Question.
Office Expenses.

Jury Question.

Evidence that county judge received rentals for use of an air compressor on the public roads of the county, which compressor he had received, at the time he was sheriff, in a trade of a county-owned rock crusher, was sufficient to present a question of fact for the jury. State v. Anderson, 200 Ark. 588, 139 S.W.2d 682 (1940).

Office Expenses.

Practice of county judge of reimbursing himself from county funds for out-of-pocket office expenses was illegal, but taxpayer could not recover amount of withdrawals for the county if county received full value. Ward v. Farrell, 221 Ark. 363, 253 S.W.2d 353 (1952).

16-15-111. Disqualification of judges.

No judge of the county court shall sit on the determination of any case in which he or she is interested in the outcome, is related to any party within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, has been of counsel, or is otherwise disqualified under the Arkansas Code of Judicial Conduct, unless the parties waive the disqualification as provided therein.

Relationship.

Purpose.

This section and § 16-13-101 tend to carry out the intention of Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed]. Mears v. Hall, 263 Ark. 827, 569 S.W.2d 91 (1978).

Acting as Counsel.

The objection that a judge was disqualified by reason of having appeared for the plaintiffs in a previous suit against the defendants upon the same cause of action which had been dismissed for want of prosecution will be deemed waived where the cause was allowed to proceed to judgment without calling the judge's attention to his disqualification. Washington Fire Ins. Co. v. Hogan, 139 Ark. 130, 213 S.W. 7 (1919).

Bias or Prejudice.

Prejudice is not ground for disqualifying judge. Jones v. State, 61 Ark. 88, 32 S.W. 81 (1895).

Whether a judge has become biased to the point that he should disqualify himself is a matter to be confined to the conscience of the judge; the reason is that bias is a subjective matter peculiarly within the knowledge of the trial judge. Thus, absent some objective demonstration of prejudice, it is a communication of bias which will cause an appellate court to reverse a trial judge's decision on disqualification. Matthews v. Rodgers, 279 Ark. 328, 651 S.W.2d 453 (1983).

Continuance.

It is no ground of error that a judge who was incompetent to sit in a cause took jurisdiction of it so far as to grant a continuance, for it would have been continued by operation of law, without action of the judge, he being incompetent to try it. Stone v. Robinson, 9 Ark. (4 English) 469 (1849).

Interest.

The interest which disqualifies a judge is not the kind of interest which one feels in public proceedings or public measures; it must be a pecuniary or property interest or one affecting his individual rights; and the liability of pecuniary gain or relief must occur upon the event of the suit and not result remotely in the future from the general operation of laws and government upon the status fixed by the decision. Osborne v. Board of Imp., 94 Ark. 563, 128 S.W. 357 (1910).

The "interest" which is disqualifying under this section, § 16-13-101, and Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed], is a personal proprietary or pecuniary interest or one affecting the individual rights of the judge, and the liability, gain or relief to the judge must turn on the outcome of the suit. Mears v. Hall, 263 Ark. 827, 569 S.W.2d 91 (1978).

Presumption.

Where the record fails to show that the court acted on a suggestion of disqualification, it will be presumed that he found that he was not disqualified. Davis v. Atkinson, 75 Ark. 300, 87 S.W. 432 (1905).

Relationship.

The husband of the aunt is related to the husband of her niece within the fourth degree of affinity. Kelly v. Neely, 12 Ark. 657 (1852).

At common law, a judge was not disqualified by reason of relationship to one of the parties to the suit. Morrow v. Watts, 80 Ark. 57, 95 S.W. 988 (1906).

A judge is disqualified when related within prohibited degree to attorney in the case who has a contingent interest in that his fee is dependent upon the determination of the cause. Johnson v. State, 87 Ark. 45, 112 S.W. 143 (1908).

When the relationship is within the proscribed limits, neither the frequency of contact nor the closeness of the individuals bears on the result. Morton v. Benton Publishing Co., 291 Ark. 620, 727 S.W.2d 824 (1987).

Where one spouse's relationship with a judge comes within the prohibition of Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 20 [repealed], this section, and §§ 16-13-214, 16-13-312 [repealed], 16-14-103 [repealed], or § 16-19-206 [repealed], the other spouse shares the same degree of relationship by affinity to the judge. Morton v. Benton Publishing Co., 291 Ark. 620, 727 S.W.2d 824 (1987).

16-15-112. Sheriff's attendance at court sessions.

It shall be the duty of the sheriff to attend each regular or special session of the county court for his or her county, either in person or by deputy, and to execute all orders and precepts made by the court. For his or her attendance, the sheriff shall be entitled to receive such fees as are allowed by law to sheriffs for executing the orders and precepts made by the county courts.

ANALYSIS

Absence of Sheriff.
Contempt.

Absence of Sheriff.

Although a sheriff can be forced to attend a session of the county court, sessions held without the presence of the sheriff are valid, and a holding that a sheriff could prevent a session from being valid by merely staying away would be unreasonable. Adams v. Tackett, 236 Ark. 171, 365 S.W.2d 125 (1963).

Contempt.

A suit by a county judge to enjoin a sheriff from interfering with an order of the county court does not lie; the proper remedy is to cite the sheriff for contempt upon his refusal to obey. Penix v. Shaddox, 165 Ark. 152, 263 S.W. 389 (1924).

16-15-113. Court expenses — Payment.

The expenses accruing in the county courts shall be paid out of the county treasury in which the court is held in the same manner as other demands.

it is in the best interest of justice and the municipality involved that the governing body of the municipality be authorized to employ any attorney within the county or the judge of another municipal court in the county to serve as judge of such court and to pay the person so employed such salary or remuneration as is provided by law or may be contracted for by the governing body of the employing municipality, and that this Act will accomplish this purpose and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the cost of law enforcement resulting from the necessity of having several municipal courts in a single county may in some cases become prohibitive; that it is in the best interest of the proper efficient and effective administration of justice in the various counties that two or more municipalities be authorized to enter into agreements whereby a single person would serve a judge of the municipal court of each of the agreeing municipalities; that it is in the best interest of the citizens of those counties affected that the agreeing municipalities and the county be permitted to enter into agreements regarding the compensation and place of holding municipal court for the various agreeing municipalities; that this Act is designed to accomplish this purpose and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

penalty for this dangerous conduct may serve as a deterrent to such behavior. Further, it is found that increased income derived from the levying of such penalties can best be utilized to provide immediate alcohol and drug safety and rehabilitation and treatment programs both to prevent an increase in the use of intoxicating alcoholic beverages and drugs and to rehabilitate persons convicted of related offenses. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Construction with Other Laws.

Residency in the City of Pine Bluff is required to be eligible as a nominee for Pine Bluff second-division municipal judge, notwithstanding that § 16-17-120 [repealed] states a general intent to abandon the city-residency requirement for municipal-court-judge candidates and electors, since this section, specifically states that only the qualified electors of the city of Pine Bluff may elect an additional municipal judge for the Second Division of the Pine Bluff Municipal Court and Ark. Const., Art. 19, § 3, provides that one must possess the qualifications of an elector to be elected to an office. Benton v. Gunter, 342 Ark. 543, 29 S.W.3d 719 (2000).

County Liability for Salary.

The trial court's decision that Searcy County was liable to pay one-half of the minimum salary requirements of the Marshall, Arkansas, municipal court judge and clerk under former similar section was affirmed, despite the appellants' contention that such a requirement deprived the rural citizens of Searcy County of equal protection and due process under the law, where that contention was raised for the first time on appeal. Taylor v. Patterson, 283 Ark. 11, 670 S.W.2d 444 (1984).

Election of Judges.

The appropriate procedure and deadline for filing as an independent candidate for the office of municipal judge is governed by § 7-7-103. Oliver v. Simons, 318 Ark. 402, 885 S.W.2d 859 (1994).

A.C.R.C. Notes. The repeal of § 16-17-110 by Acts 1995, No. 1256 has been deemed to supersede its amendment by Acts 1995, No. 1032. Acts 1995, No. 1032, § 9, purported to repeal nonexistent § 16-17-110(c), and subdivision (b)(2)(A)(ii) was amended by Acts 1995, No. 1032, § 2, to read as follows: “(b)(2)(A)(ii) Sixteen and seven-tenths percent (16.7%) to the Public Health Fund.”

It is therefore declared that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1929, No. 224, § 4: approved Mar. 27, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "It appearing that in certain communities there are irregularities in inferior courts which this act is intended to correct, an emergency is declared and this act shall be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1941, No. 280, § 2: approved Mar. 26, 1941. Emergency clause provided: "This act being necessary for the immediate preservation of property, public health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the same shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage."

Acts 1951, No. 280, § 2: Mar. 19, 1951. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby ascertained that other county and city officials have, since the passage of Act No. 60 of 1927 secured increases in their salaries and that municipal clerks covered by said Act No. 60 of 1927 have had no increase in salary and due to the increased volume of work placed upon municipal clerks covered by said Act No. 60 and increased costs of living generally and for the better and more efficient operation of the office of municipal clerks covered by said act an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall take effect and be enforced from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1955, No. 160, § 3: effective 90 days after approval.

Acts 1961, No. 39, § 2: Feb. 6, 1961. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and declared by the General Assembly that under existing law, municipal judges in certain cities having a city manager form of government, are elected at city election held in odd numbered years; that in such cities the only reason for holding odd year city elections is to elect a municipal judge; that immediate provision should be made to authorize the election of municipal judges in such cities at the regular biennial general election held in even numbered years and thereby remove the necessity for holding the odd year city elections in such cities. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Therefore an emergency is declared to exist, and this act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall take effect and be in force from the date of its approval."

Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 38, § 3: Feb. 20, 1968. ANALYSIS

Constitutionality.
Salary Increase.
Taxpayer Suit.

Constitutionality.

The imposition of part of the expenses of municipal courts on the counties in which they are established is not violative of constitutional provisions vesting county courts with original jurisdiction in all matters relating to county affairs. Crawford County v. Van Buren, 201 Ark. 798, 146 S.W.2d 914 (1941).

This section does not violate the Constitution on the ground that it constitutes an encroachment by the legislature on the city in the matter of finances, since section does not impose court on any city, but merely sets minimum salary for municipal court established by the city. Stuttgart v. Elms, 220 Ark. 722, 249 S.W.2d 829 (1952).

Salary Increase.

Municipal judge was not estopped from recovering increased salary voted by legislature on the ground that he had agreed to take an increase in a less amount than that provided by the legislature, since contract was not binding in law. Stuttgart v. Elms, 220 Ark. 722, 249 S.W.2d 829 (1952).

Taxpayer Suit.

A resident taxpayer of a city is the equitable owner of public funds and is the proper party to bring suit to enjoin and collect the illegal payment of public funds to a person acting as municipal judge. Revis v. Harris, 217 Ark. 25, 228 S.W.2d 624 (1950).

City of Mammoth Spring ex rel. Smith*, 287 Ark. 12, 696 S.W.2d 712 (1985); Beshear v. Clark, 292 Ark. 47, 728 S.W.2d 165 (1987); State ex rel. Robinson v. Craighead County Bd. of Election Comm'rs, 300 Ark. 405, 779 S.W.2d 169 (1989).

16-17-210. Special judges.

(a) If a district judge is disqualified or temporarily unable to serve, or if the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall determine that there is other need for a special judge to be temporarily appointed, a special judge may be assigned by the Chief Justice or elected by the bar of the district court, under rules prescribed by the Supreme Court, to serve during the period of temporary disqualification, absence, or need.

(b) A special judge shall have the same power and authority in the court as the regular district judge would have if present and presiding and shall have the same qualifications as are required by law for the regular district judge.

(c) A special judge assigned or elected under this section shall receive compensation for his or her service as provided by law.

CASE NOTES

Substantial Compliance.

Special judge called at the suggestion of defendant's attorney after the clerk stated that regular judge was out of the city, where prosecuting attorney and defendant's attorney were the only attorneys present, was selected in substantial compliance with this section. Freeman v. Allen, 193 Ark. 432, 100 S.W.2d 679 (1937).

Cited: Littleton v. Blanton, 281 Ark. 395, 665 S.W.2d 239 (1984).

(b) The city council of the city in which the court is located shall fix the salary of the district court clerk at a reasonable sum, the salary to be computed on an annual basis and payable in equal monthly installments. However, where the county in which the court is located is to pay any portion of the clerk's salary, the salary must also be approved by the quorum court of that county. Further, if the expenses and salaries of any district court are paid entirely by the county in which the court is located, the salary of the clerk shall be fixed by the quorum court of the county and not by the city council.

(c) The district court clerk shall keep a fair record of all the acts done and proceedings had in the court and shall enter all judgments of the court, under the direction of the judge.

(5) Keep such other dockets, books, and indices as may be required by law or by the judge; and

(6) Issue and attest all process.

(e) The district court clerk shall render for each month, not later than the tenth day of the succeeding month, reports in triplicate of all civil and criminal cases tried. These reports shall show all fines, penalties, forfeitures, fees, and costs taxed, assessed, and collected during the month and also show the nature of each case. One (1) copy of such report is to be forwarded or delivered to the mayor of the city and one (1) copy to the clerk of the county court.

(f) Where the duties of the office of district court clerk do not require a full-time employee, the city council may require that the duties of the clerk be performed by any other officer of the city.

History. Acts 1927, No. 60, § 12; Pope's Dig., § 9908; Acts 1951, No. 280, § 1; 1953, No. 313, § 3; 1963, No. 57, § 1; 1963, No. 175, § 1; 1975, No. 873, § 1; 1981, No. 74, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 22-713; Acts 1995, No. 555, § 1; 2003, No. 1185, § 125; 2003, No. 1765, § 18; 2009, No. 633, § 13.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The operation of subsection (f) of this section was suspended by adoption of a self-insured fidelity bond program for public officers, officials and employees, effective July 20, 1987, pursuant to § 21-2-701 et seq. The subsection may again become effective upon cessation of coverage under that program. See § 21-2-703.

Pursuant to § 1-2-207, subdivision (d)(8) was deleted by Acts 2003, No. 1765, § 18. This subdivision was also amended by Acts 2003, No. 1185, § 125, to read as follows: "Tax and collect fees and costs allowed by law."

CASE NOTES

Administration of Oaths.

Although a municipal court clerk can administer oaths under this section, § 21-2-105(a)(3) dictates that a municipal judge can only receive his oath of office from certain designated persons, who do not include a municipal court clerk. City the citizens of the state; and it is further determined that the current method of financing the state judicial system has become so complex as to make the administration of the system impossible, and the lack of reliable data on the current costs of the state judicial system prohibits any comprehensive change in the funding of the system at this time. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 2007, No. 663, § 56(b): Jan. 1, 2012.

Acts 2009, No. 345, § 57: July 1, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act is immediately necessary to coincide with the beginning of the 2009 — 2010 fiscal year to further the goal of a unified court system in order to provide judicial economy and the fair administration of justice. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on July 1, 2009.”

CASE NOTES

Transfers.

As is provided by Arkansas’s statutory law and court rules, the municipal court had authority to transfer cause to the Washington County Circuit Court after concluding replevin action exceeded the jurisdictional amount. Bonnell v. Smith, 322 Ark. 141, 908 S.W.2d 74 (1995).

16-17-703. Right to jury trial.

There shall be no jury trials in district court. In order that the right of trial by jury remains inviolate, all appeals from judgment in district court shall be de novo to circuit court.

Constitutionality.

While former § 16-17-704(a)(6) does provide for concurrent jurisdiction, nothing in Acts 1987, No. 431 suggests an intent by the legislature to abrogate the constitutional right to a trial by jury in tort actions triable in circuit court. To the contrary, this section, which deals with appeals from municipal court, clearly demonstrates the legislature's concern that the right secured by Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 7 not be diminished. McClanahan v. Gibson, 296 Ark. 304, 756 S.W.2d 889 (1988).

Construction with Other Law.

Although a DWI conviction is tried de novo in circuit court on appeal, the appeal does not affect the validity of the judgment of the district court until that judgment is overturned; thus, defendant's prior driving while intoxicated (DWI) conviction, which was on appeal to the circuit court, was properly used to determine defendant's fourth-offense DWI status at sentencing in a subsequent case. Swint v. State, 356 Ark. 361, 152 S.W.3d 226 (2004).

Circuit Court.

In a tort case in circuit court, there is a right to trial by jury regardless of the amount in controversy. McClanahan v. Gibson, 296 Ark. 304, 756 S.W.2d 889 (1988).

Default Judgment.

A defendant has a direct right of appeal to circuit court from the entry of a default judgment in municipal court. Murdock v. Slater, 326 Ark. 1067, 935 S.W.2d 540 (1996).

Failure to Appear.

The trial court complied with Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 7 by setting defendant's case for trial by jury even though defendant failed to appear at trial and, therefore, was precluded from exercising that right. Rischar v. State, 307 Ark. 429, 821 S.W.2d 25 (1991).

16-17-704. Jurisdiction — Civil Cases.

ANALYSIS

Constitutionality.
Appeal.
Fraud.
Personal Property.
Trial by Jury.

Constitutionality.

While former subdivision (a)(6) of this section does provide for concurrent jurisdiction, nothing in Acts 1987, No. 431 suggests an intent by the legislature to abrogate the constitutional right to a trial by jury in tort actions triable in circuit court. To the contrary, § 16-17-703, which deals with appeals from municipal court (now district court), clearly demonstrates the legislature's concern that the right secured by Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 7 not be diminished. McClanahan v. Gibson, 296 Ark. 304, 756 S.W.2d 889 (1988).

Appeal.

Arkansas law, constitutional and statutory, provides municipal courts with no authority to hear and decide actions concerning damages to land. Accordingly, a municipal court lacks subject matter jurisdiction of a trespass on land action, and because the municipal court has no jurisdiction cause, the circuit court acquires none on appeal. Miles v. Southern, 297 Ark. 274, 760 S.W.2d 868 (1988).

Fraud.

Legal malpractice action brought against an attorney in the small claims division of the municipal court was really a claim based on fraud and, as such, the municipal court lacked subject-matter jurisdiction; the circuit court's summary judgment in favor of the attorney was proper because it could not acquire subject-matter jurisdiction on appeal, however, the court could consider the defense of lack of subject-matter jurisdiction or failure to state a claim on a summary judgment motion, pursuant to Ark. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(1) and (6). French v. Webb, 80 Ark. App. 357, 96 S.W.3d 740 (2003).

Personal Property.

Whether personal property becomes a fixture by annexation to the land depends upon the annexer's manifested intention, which can be shown by material considerations such as the character of the fixture as related to the use to which the land is being put and the manner in which the property is attached to the land. Sanders v. Putman, 315 Ark. 251, 866 S.W.2d 827 (1993).

Trial by Jury.

In a tort case in circuit court, there is a right to trial by jury regardless of the amount in controversy. McClanahan v. Gibson, 296 Ark. 304, 756 S.W.2d 889 (1988).

Persons are not entitled to a jury trial in municipal court except that such right to a jury trial remains inviolate when they pursue their appeal to circuit court where their case is to be tried de novo. Edwards v. City of Conway, 300 Ark. 135, 777 S.W.2d 583 (1989); State v. Roberts, 321 Ark. 31, 900 S.W.2d 175 (1995).

(2) No portion of the filing fee shall be refunded.

(b)(1) For initiating a cause of action in the civil division of district court.....$65.00

(2) For initiating a cause of action in the small claims division of district court$50.00

(c) A town, city, or county shall not authorize and a district court clerk shall not assess or collect any other filing fees than those authorized by this section, unless specifically provided by state law.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment, in (b)(2), deleted “if that division is established pursuant to the Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 80, § 7(D)” following “court” and substituted “$50.00” for “$25.00”; and substituted “town, city, or county” for “municipality” in (c).

The 2009 amendment substituted “$65.00” for “50.00” in (b)(1); and made minor stylistic changes in (c).

ANALYSIS

Constitutionality.
Appropriation Not Made.
Association Dues.

Constitutionality.

The imposition of part of the expenses of municipal courts on the counties in which they are established is not violative of constitutional provisions vesting county courts with original jurisdiction in all matters relating to county affairs. Crawford County v. Van Buren, 201 Ark. 798, 146 S.W.2d 914 (1941) (decision under prior law).

Appropriation Not Made.

If a municipal court was created after the last prior meeting of the quorum court and no appropriation was made for the payment of the services of the judge and clerk, they could recover from the county on its liability for one-half of their salaries, provided there was a balance more than sufficient to pay those salaries. Jackson County v. Pickens, 208 Ark. 15, 184 S.W.2d 591 (1945) (decision under prior law).

Association Dues.

There is no provision in the Constitution or the statutes which gives the county court the specific authority to pay dues to the county judges' association. Arkansas Ass'n of County Judges v. Green, 232 Ark. 438, 338 S.W.2d 672 (1960).

16-17-706. Venue.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the venue of civil actions instituted under this subchapter shall be as in like actions instituted in the circuit courts.

(b) If a small claims division of the district court is established pursuant to Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 80, § 7, venue in civil actions instituted in the small claims division shall be as follows:

(1) When a defendant has contracted to perform an obligation in a particular county, an action based on that obligation may be commenced and maintained either in the county where the obligation is to be performed or in the county in which the defendant resides at the commencement of the action;

(2) When the action is for injury to person or to personal property, either the county where the injury occurred or the county where the defendant resides at the commencement of the action shall be the proper venue; and

(3) In all other cases, actions shall be commenced and maintained in the county in which the defendant resides.

History. Acts 2003, No. 1185, § 167.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2003, No. 1185, § 167, purports to amend former § 16-17-706, which had previously been repealed by Acts 1997, No. 788, § 32 and No. 1341, § 31; the 2003 act has been treated as an enactment.

Publisher's Notes. Former § 16-17-706, concerning disposition of filing fees and the municipal court costs fund, was repealed by Acts 1997, No. 788, § 32 and No. 1341, § 31. The section was derived from Acts 1987, No. 431, § 5; 1987 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 34, § 1.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 1185, § 167: effective Jan. 1, 2005, by its own terms.

16-17-707. Separate accounting records of fines, etc. — Disbursements. [Effective until January 1, 2012.]

(1) The first class of accounting records shall embrace all sums collected in the district court in all nontraffic cases which are misdemeanors or violations of the town or city ordinances and all cases which are misdemeanors or violations under state law or traffic offenses which are misdemeanors or violations under state law or town or city ordinance committed within the corporate limits of the town or city where the court sits, where the arresting officer was a police officer or other officer of the town or city, a Department of Arkansas State Police officer or other certified law enforcement officer of the state or an officer of a private or public college or university located within the corporate limits of the town or city where the court sits;

(2) The second class of accounting records shall embrace all sums collected in the district court in all nontraffic cases which are misdemeanors or violations of county ordinances or are misdemeanors or violations of any of the laws of the state where the arresting officer was the county sheriff or a deputy sheriff or was not a police officer or other officer of the town or city where the court sits, and the offense was committed outside the corporate limits of the town or city where the court sits, and in all other criminal or traffic proceedings not specifically enumerated in this section; and

(3)(A) The third class of accounting records shall embrace all sums collected in the district court in all civil and small claims cases.

(B) The uniform filing fee collected under § 16-17-705 shall be remitted to the city administration of justice fund.

(C) The uniform court costs collected under § 16-10-305 shall be remitted to the city administration of justice fund.

(D) All other fees and interest earned on the court account shall be disbursed to the treasurers of the political subdivisions which contribute to the expense of the district court in accordance with a written agreement among the political subdivisions.

(b)(1)(A) After deducting the fees due the police department and marshal's office and sheriff's office the district court shall pay into the town or city treasury all sums collected from the first class of accounting records.

(B) The district court shall pay all sums collected from the second class of accounting records into the county treasury.

(2) Any district court that is funded solely by the county shall pay all sums collected from the first class or second class of accounting records into the county treasury and shall pay all uniform filing fees and court costs collected into the county administration of justice fund.

(3) A town or city that has a police department and does not operate a district court or city court shall receive only the prorated sums collected as provided in § 16-17-1203.

(4) Direct monetary settlements shall be made with state entities or agencies as provided by law.

(c) All disbursements from all three (3) classes of accounting records shall be pursuant to the provisions set forth in the Arkansas District Courts and City Courts Accounting Law, § 16-10-201 et seq.

History. Acts 1987, No. 431, § 6; 1987 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 34, § 2; 2003, No. 1185, § 168; 2003, No. 1765, § 22; 2005, No. 1934, § 12; 2009, No. 411, § 1; 2009, No. 633, § 14.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

Pursuant to § 1-2-207, this section is set out above as amended by Acts 2003, No. 1765, § 22. This section was also amended by Acts 2003, No. 1185, § 168, to read as follows:

“(a) The district court clerk shall keep three (3) separate accounts of all fines, penalties, forfeitures, fees, and costs received by him or her for any of the officers of the city, township, or county, as provided in this subchapter.

“(1) The first class of accounts shall embrace all sums collected in the district court in all criminal cases arising out of violations of the city ordinances and cases arising out of violation of state laws committed within the corporate limits of the city where the court sits, where the arresting officer was a police officer or other officer of the city or where the arresting officer was a Department of Arkansas State Police officer.

“(2) The second class of accounts shall embrace all cases arising out of violation of any of the laws of the state where the arresting officer was not a police officer or other officer of the municipality, or where the offense was committed outside the corporate limits of the city and the arrest was made by a department officer, and in all other criminal proceedings not specifically enumerated in this section; and

“(3) The third class shall embrace all sums collected in the district court in all civil cases.

“(b) After deduction and remittance of those fees permitted and authorized in this subchapter, the balance shall be disbursed to the treasurers of the political subdivisions which contribute to the expenses of the district court in proportionate amounts as each pays to the court.

“(c) After deducting the fees and costs due the sheriff and constables, the district court shall pay into the city treasury all sums arising from the first class of accounts, and shall pay all sums arising out of the second class of accounts into the county treasury.

“(d) All disbursements from all three (3) classes shall be pursuant to the provisions set forth in the Arkansas District Courts, Police Courts, and City Courts Accounting Law § 16-10-201 et seq.”

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

SUBCHAPTER 10 — DISTRICT COURT RESOURCE ASSESSMENT

SECTION.	SECTION.
16-17-1001. Legislative findings.	16-17-1003. Duties of the District Court
16-17-1002. District Court Resource Assessment Board.	Resource Assessment Board.

16-17-1001. Legislative findings.

- The General Assembly finds that:
- (1) The goal expressed by Arkansas citizens with the adoption of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution was the creation of a three-tiered, unified court system;
 - (2) The current structure of limited jurisdiction courts consists of a combination of full-time and part-time district and city court judges funded by city and county governments;
 - (3) Based on availability of local resources, the cumulative effect of the creation and funding of those courts by local governments has been an unequal level of access to and an inequitable distribution of judicial services to communities;
 - (4) While Amendment 80 does not require the state to fund the district court system, there is a state interest in providing a more uniform level of judicial resources to all citizens of the state;
 - (5) Because the current system of limited jurisdiction courts is not uniform, it is contrary to the interest of the state to merely shift the funding of the system from local government to state government without addressing the district court system’s structure;
 - (6) A way of addressing the shortage of resources for circuit courts in some areas of the state is the expansion of the jurisdiction of the district court, which will shift cases from the circuit court to the district court and reduce expenses for the state;

(7) A state-funded district court system should include an analysis by the state that furthers the goal of a unified and equitable system for the delivery of judicial services; and

(8) It is the intent of this subchapter to begin that analysis process by establishing a pilot program that creates a limited number of state-funded district court judgeships and a process for the study and consideration of establishing additional district courts in the future.

History. Acts 2007, No. 663, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Section 19 of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution provided that all municipal courts were to become district courts on January 1, 2005, and that they should assume the jurisdiction previously vested in municipal courts, police courts, justice of the peace courts, and courts of common pleas. Those courts were abolished by the amendment. City courts were to continue, but if abolished by the governing body of the city or by the General Assembly, the jurisdiction of the city court would then vest in the nearest district court.

(9) For purposes of the pilot program, cities and counties should keep one hundred percent (100%) of all their current revenue from fines and costs with the exception of the adjustment from the cost-sharing formula.

16-17-1201. Findings and intent. [Effective January 1, 2012.]

(a) The General Assembly finds that:

(1) The intent of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution was to create a unified court system to provide judicial economy and a fair administration of justice;

(2) The judicial system in this state should be composed of three (3) tiers to accomplish the intent of Amendment 80 to the Arkansas Constitution:

(A) Appellate courts to be composed of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals;

(B) General jurisdiction trial courts to be composed of the circuit courts; and

(C) Limited jurisdiction courts to be composed of the district courts;

(3) The city courts of this state should be consolidated with district courts in order to provide judicial and administrative functions in limited jurisdiction courts that are both necessary and cost-effective; and

(4) City courts provide a valuable service for the citizens of towns and cities that operate city courts and also revenue for those towns and cities and for this state. However, many towns and cities provide law enforcement officers for the safety of citizens but do not operate a city court.

(b) It is the intent of the General Assembly that a town or city that has operated a city court is to continue to receive revenue from cases that originate in its town or city limits and to establish a procedure to allow a town or city that has never operated a city court but that now or in the future may have law enforcement officers to be able to receive a portion of the revenue from cases that originate in its town or city limits.

(c) It is also the intent of the General Assembly that this subchapter will consolidate all limited jurisdiction courts in the state as of January 1, 2012.

(d)(1) On January 1, 2012 , the district courts shall be regarded as a continuation of the city courts now existing.

(2)(A) All papers and records pertaining to the city courts shall be transferred to the appropriate district courts and no suit or prosecution of any kind or nature shall abate because of any change made by this subchapter.
